

Let's all stand for dear old Warwick with a spirit strong and true - Red and Black are high school colors - Let them ring in our alma mater - We will sing her praises ever - Through the months and through the year. Warwick is our alma mater - Let us all sing it loud and clear.

it.

WARWICK HIGH SCHOOL:

A building containing many different sounds: sounds of happiness, sounds of dismay, sounds of intelligence, and sounds of plain stupidity. Each sound is special in its own way, and blends to form a unique harmony, a harmony which you can hear as you flip through the pages of this book, a harmony of . . .

ENVIRONMENT

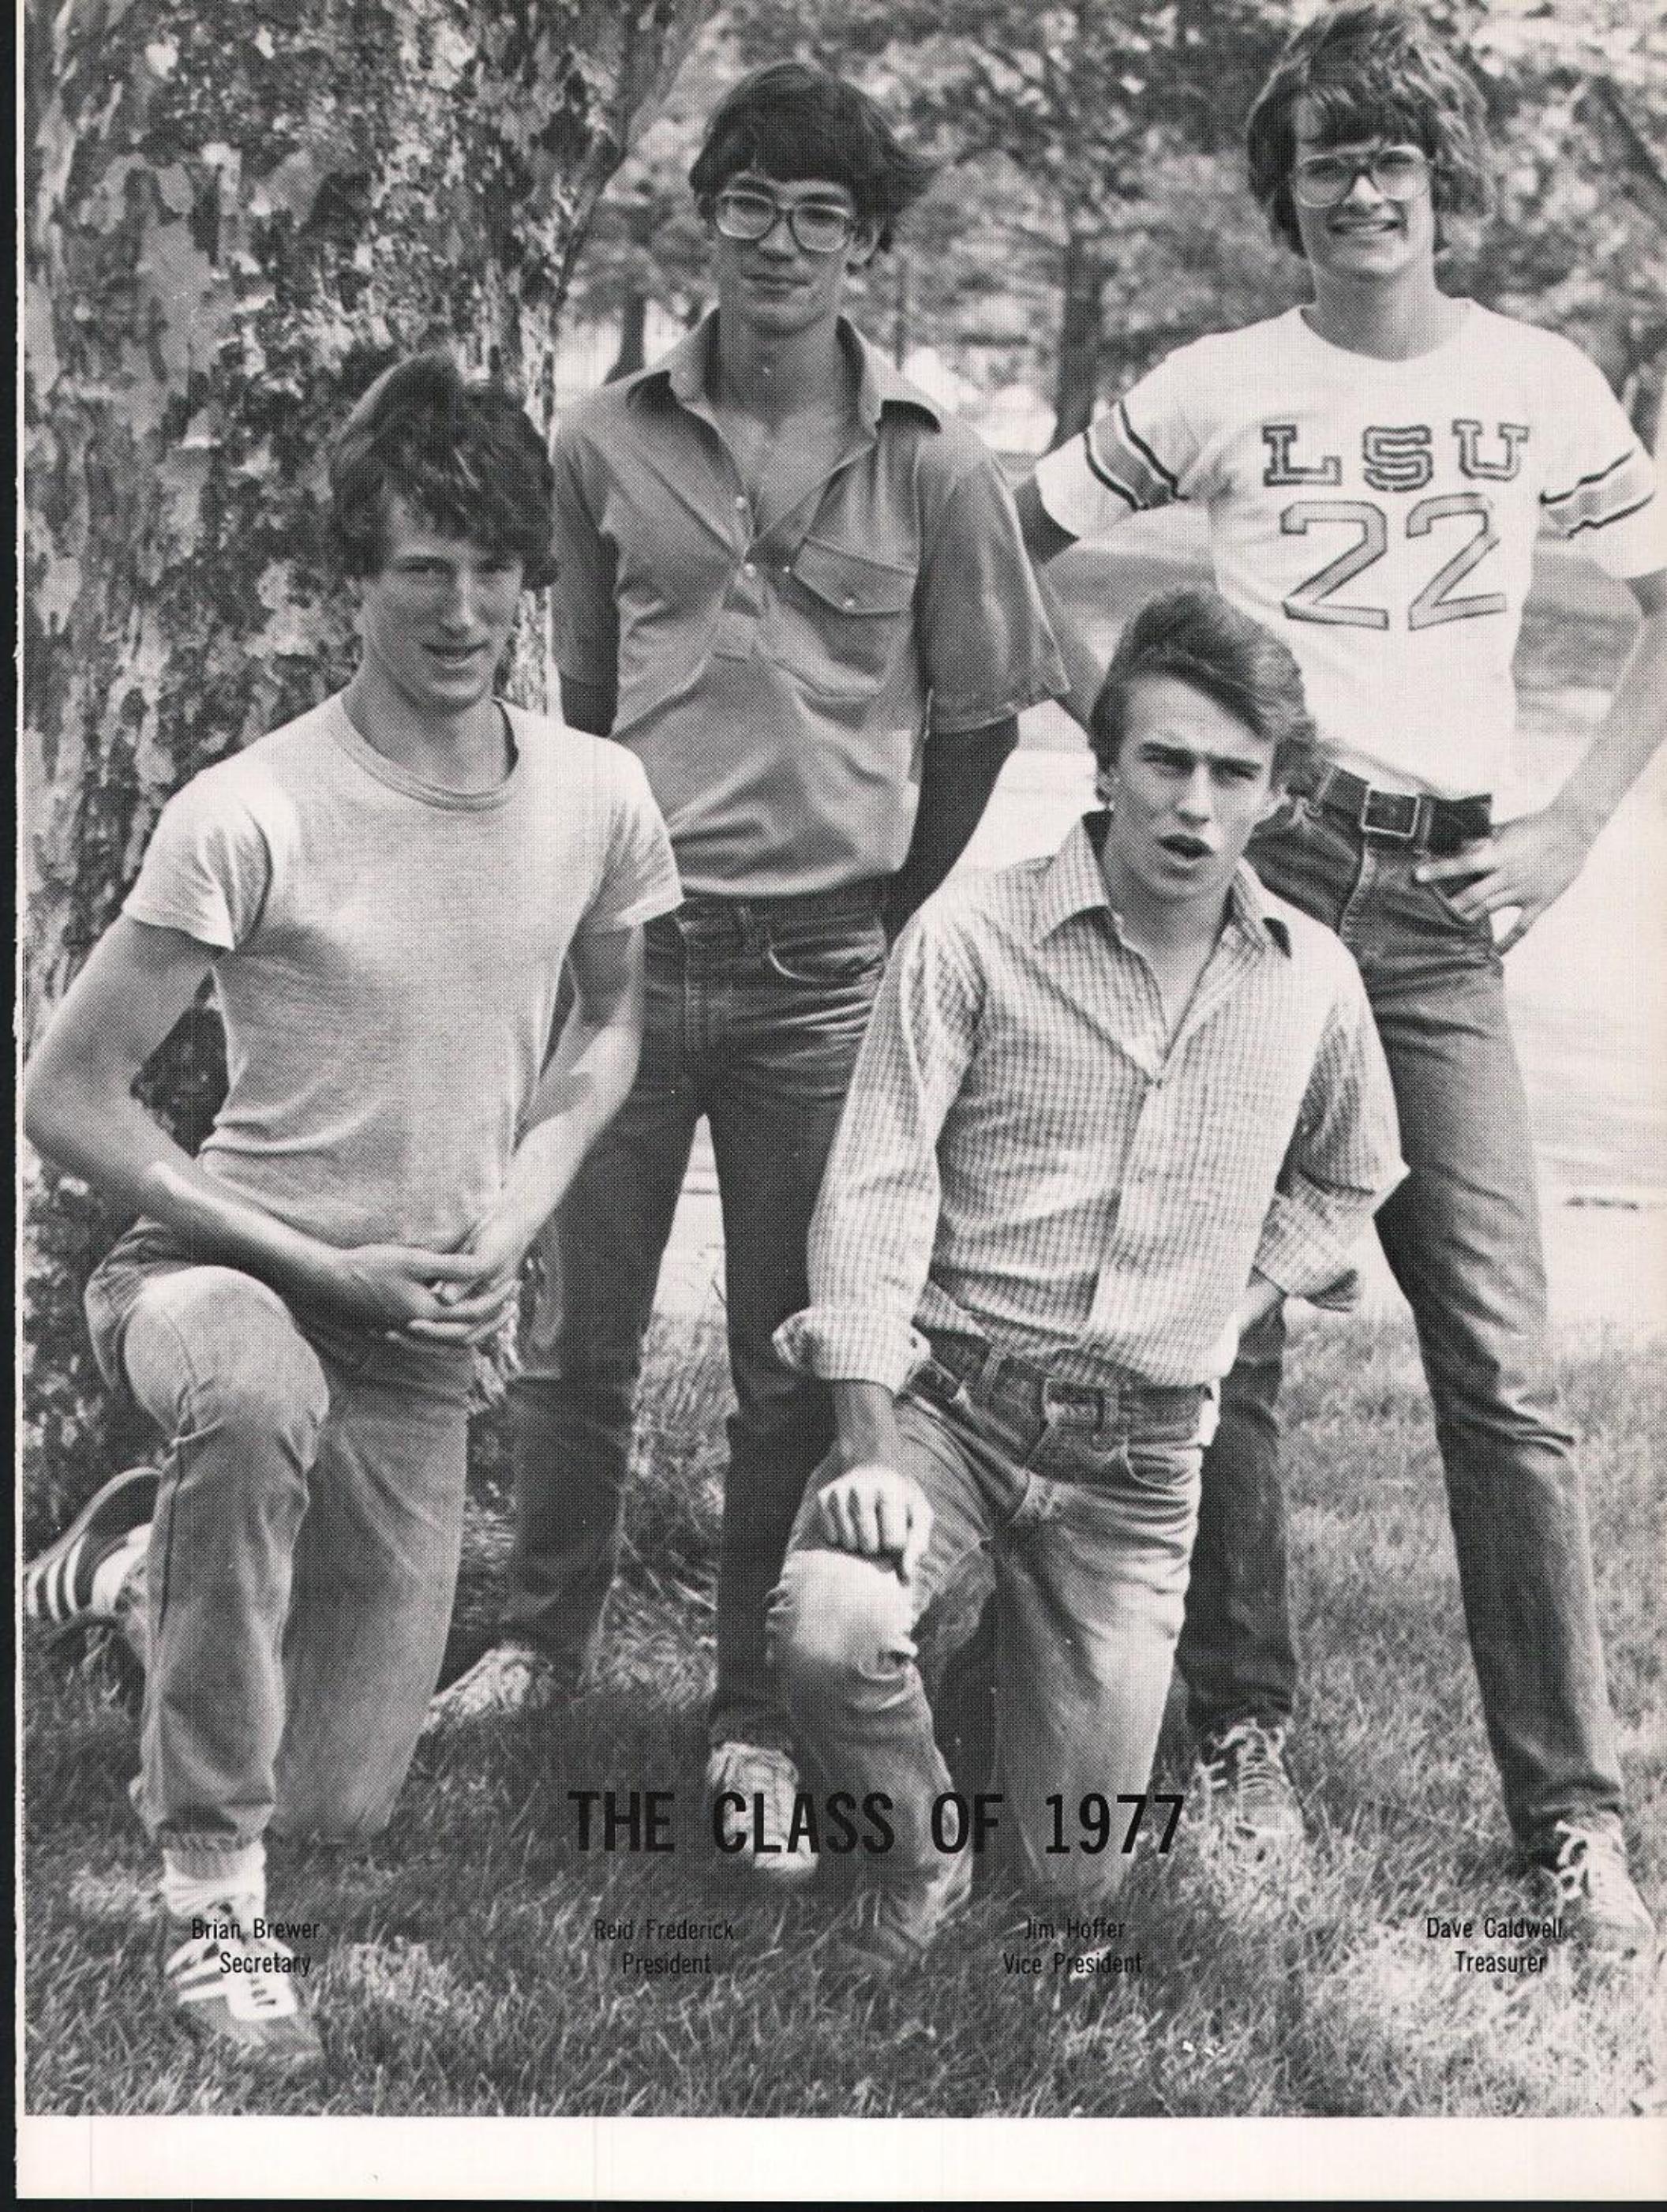

A large, white rose is the central focus of the image. It is set against a dark, textured background that appears to be a close-up of a rose bush. The rose's petals are layered and slightly curled, with a few small buds visible. The lighting is dramatic, highlighting the texture of the petals and the speckled background.

Class flower: Rose

Class colors: Forest green and ivory

Class song: "Searching"

Class motto: As you look behind, see the memories of the sunset,
As you look forward, see the bright promises of the sunrise.

MALENA MORANT: BOLIVIAN VISITS WARWICK

The American Field Service offers opportunities for families, schools, and communities to host students from different cultural environments. The program attempts to provide participants with the experience of living in different environments together in a family unit.

ASF looks for students and families with the ability to accept and appreciate differences, with a concern for others and a capacity to handle challenges positively. Students between the ages of sixteen and seventeen live for a semester, summer or full school year with families, attend school and participate fully in the activities of their new community.

MALENA WRITES

Friends:

How did I like it here as a student at Warwick, and all my AFS experiences? Well, I don't know the adequate words for to say, that I had a great time in the U.S., and Lititz, and especially in Warwick.

There are so many things I got to know through this year: new language, life style, culture, American foods, and so many great friends.

I felt so proud to be one more member of a world organization, AFS (American Field Service), which makes it possible to find myself better than before. Even though I am far away from my home country, I can evaluate the parent's importance, friends, and to love a little bit more to my own country.

I will never forget my English learning, especially when I gave my speeches in different classes and places, and also I will never forget all of you in general as same as my American family, because you were part of it, giving to me confidence and helping me in so many ways.

I really enjoyed all school activities, the different seasons sports, dances, etc. I will come back some day soon and then I will know a bit better the English Language!

Love,
Malena

KELLY REEDY VISITS YUGOSLAVIA

Dear Friends,

Howdy from Yugoslavia! My family is terrific. Father is adorable. He doesn't speak any English but he always tries to communicate. Mamma is a lovable person who tries to make me eat constantly. She always brings fruit and things into my room for me to eat. Kaca, my 18 year old sister, and I are getting very close. We sleep in the same room and Ivana, the 13 year old, sleeps in the dining room on the foldout chairbed.

School started on September 1. It goes from 7:30-12:30, 5 hours Monday-Friday. The kids stay in the same room and the teachers change. Everyone must rise when any elder enters the room. All the kids take 12 or 13 subjects, but I only have to take 7 since that's all I took back home. The subjects don't meet each day so it's like having study halls for me.

Every night Kaca and I go to the bar which is downtown. It's a small room where young people gather to talk and listen to music. I met a lot of my future classmates in the bar.

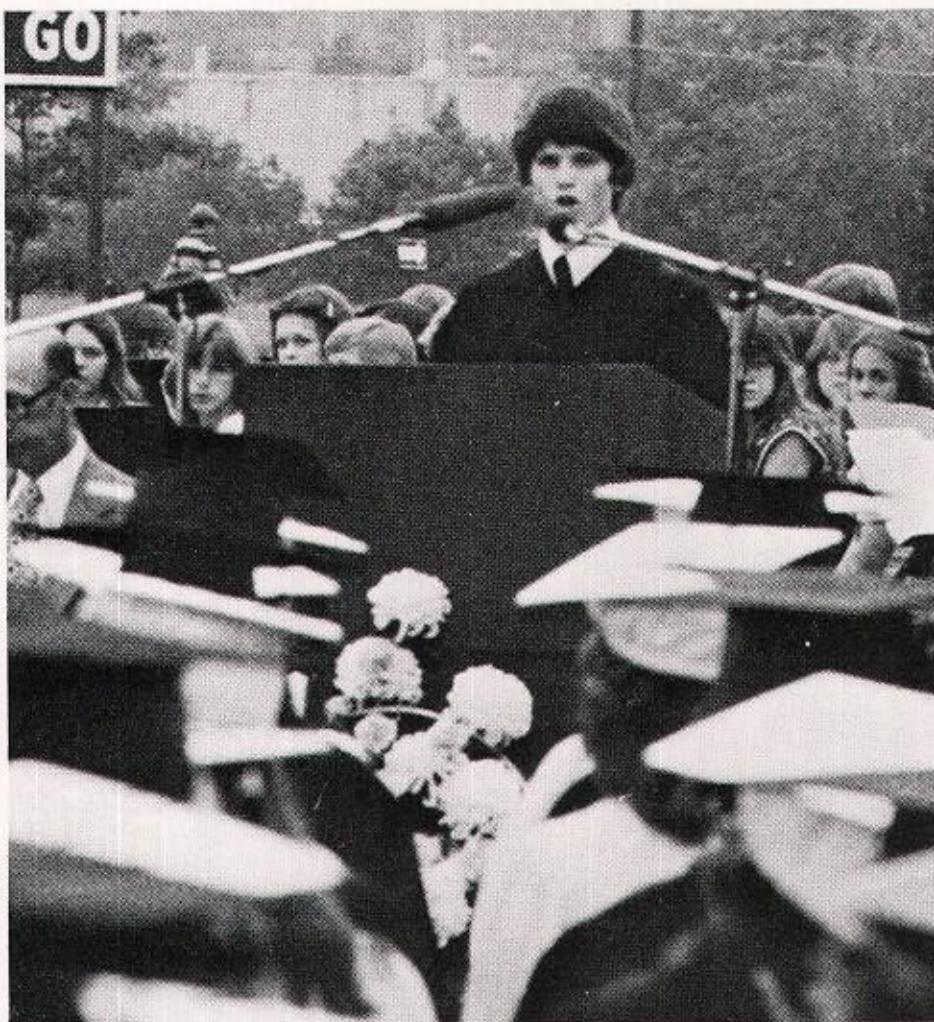

Hope to see all of you soon.
Love,
Kelly

Juniors Show In Class

This year has turned out to be another prosperous year for the class of '78. Fund raising events included a dance featuring "Rockwood", a faculty basketball game, and a very profitable Kline's Candy sale.

Under the presidency of Shaun Schoenberger and Vice-Presidency of Linda Derck, the junior class showed great enthusiasm for ways to earn money and give the seniors a fantastic prom. Secretary Cindy Sipe and Treasurer Denise McIntyre also contributed heavily to formulate new ideas and projects. Of course, the major concern of the class is the prom. Not only raising money is of vital importance, but also where to hold the prom, what meal to serve, and what group to supply the evening with music. The prom was held at Host Farms on May 20, and the group featured was "Maxwell".

KREITER WINS THIRD TERM

The Sophomore Class started the year with a back-to-school, fund-raising dance featuring the group "Chance." Afterwards they began planning and building their float for homecoming, a scene from "Fiddler on the Roof," featuring the song, "Sun Rise, Sun Set," which placed third in spite of the windy day. They decided to have a second annual sub sale in February due to the success they had had the year before. It was not as successful as they had hoped, but it was their largest fund-raiser all year. They held a spring dance at the beginning of April. The dance featured the group "Mr. Natural." The last project of the year was a booth at the Spring Fling on May 7.

We, the class of '80 had our first taste of high school life this year. Our first project that we participated in was the homecoming float. Next, in order to raise money for our class, we sold ball point pens. For our next project, our class set up two money-making stands at the Spring Fling Carnival.

We would like to thank our advisor, Mr. Cochran, and all the other freshmen teachers for helping us accomplish our tasks.

TOO MUCH SPIRIT

November 12, 1976

Dear Diary,

Sorry I haven't written all week, but this has been spirit week, and I've been too tired every night to write. We had kiddie day, and I was up to midnight on Monday trying to get my lolly-pop out of my pigtail. Wednesday during cowboy and indian day, Jeff and Tony tied my fringe to my chair and I spent half of lunch period in English class trying to free myself. (It's a wonder they didn't burn me at the stake!) Today was jeans and hats days. More people participated today, I suppose because it's easiest. Such lack of spirit we have, sometimes. Warwick kids are too inhibited. (Not to mention teachers). Oh well.

But the pep rally was a riot! "Rah-Rah" was back this year and got coach Snyder! Hah! And some guys dressed up as home coming queen contestants. There was Lee, Brian, Perry, Scott and Andy. Also Welsh, Price, Harry, McCormich, Blose, and Baublitz were Central's "cheerleaders." That was good. Shirk, Heron, and MacIntire were in their "band". What fun. Oh yeah, Brian Brewer won!

More tommorrow,

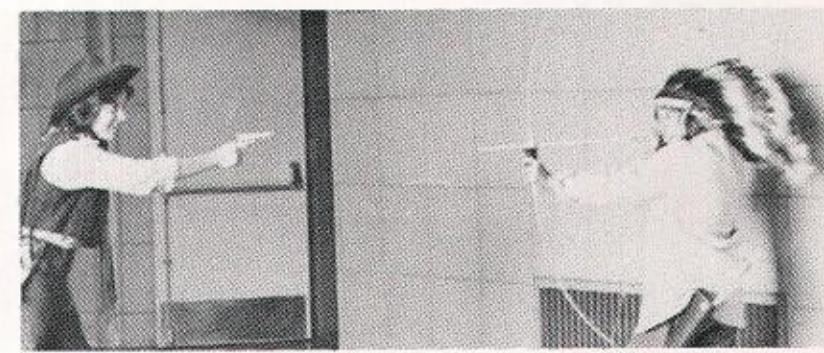

Marcie

November 13, 1976

Dear Diary,

So at last it's homecoming. We played Manheim Central this year, but we lost, 16-7. The loss and the windy weather were the only disappointing parts. It was so windy that some of the homecoming floats were blown apart. The winners were the seniors. Their float was based on the theme of "Carousel". The juniors won second place with their float about "The Wizard of Oz". Lynn Eckman got homecoming queen. The other seniors were Janice Cooper, Brenda Gingrich, Vicki Zercher and Shari Smith.

That night was the homecoming dance. I went with Dave. We really liked the group, "Baby Jane". We danced most of the night, except when Dave was hungry. There was a big turn-out, and it was hot in the cafeteria. When we went in they stamped our hands. Well, while we were slow-dancing I had the back of my hand against the back of his neck. With all that heat, well . . . Dave ended up with the date printed backwards on his neck. I was very embarrassed! He'll probably never ask me out again. "Sigh".

Here's hopin' for a better tomorrow.

Gotta stop now Mom's callin.

See ya

February 17
Dear Diary:

Hello again. Tonight was an all right night. Dave and I went to see the school play, "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail". I never saw Jim Longenecker act before. Talent sure comes out of the wall around here when the occasion arises! There was also John McCall, Perry Anderson, Ginny Seaman, Ardy Holder, and Joe, Jim's brother.

Mrs. Buchanio was the new drama coach, but Tom Gibble was student Director. He's really good. I could never direct a whole play! I really liked the flash backs and how they used projectors to do the native scenes. It was good stuff, but a little over high school level if you ask me.

Well, all except for Dave's brilliant idea of bringing popcorn, it was a good night. I thought I'd die when I sneezed and got popcorn all over that fat lady with the fur coat. Why do these things always happen to me? 'Night to All,
Marcie

FFA SPONSORS TWO DONKEY B-BALL GAMES

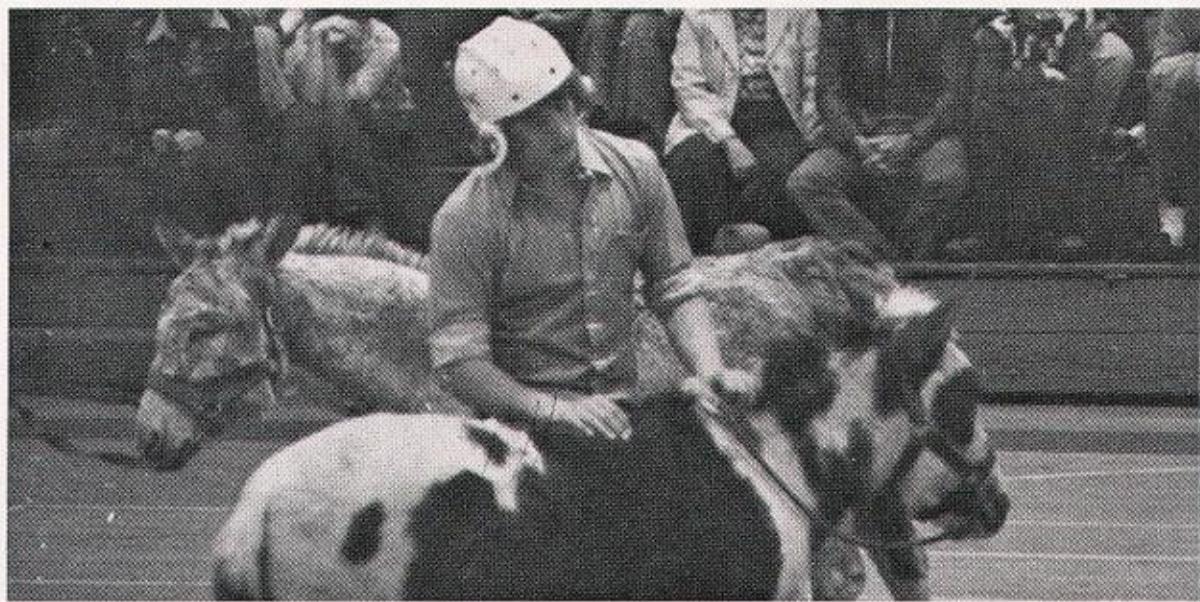

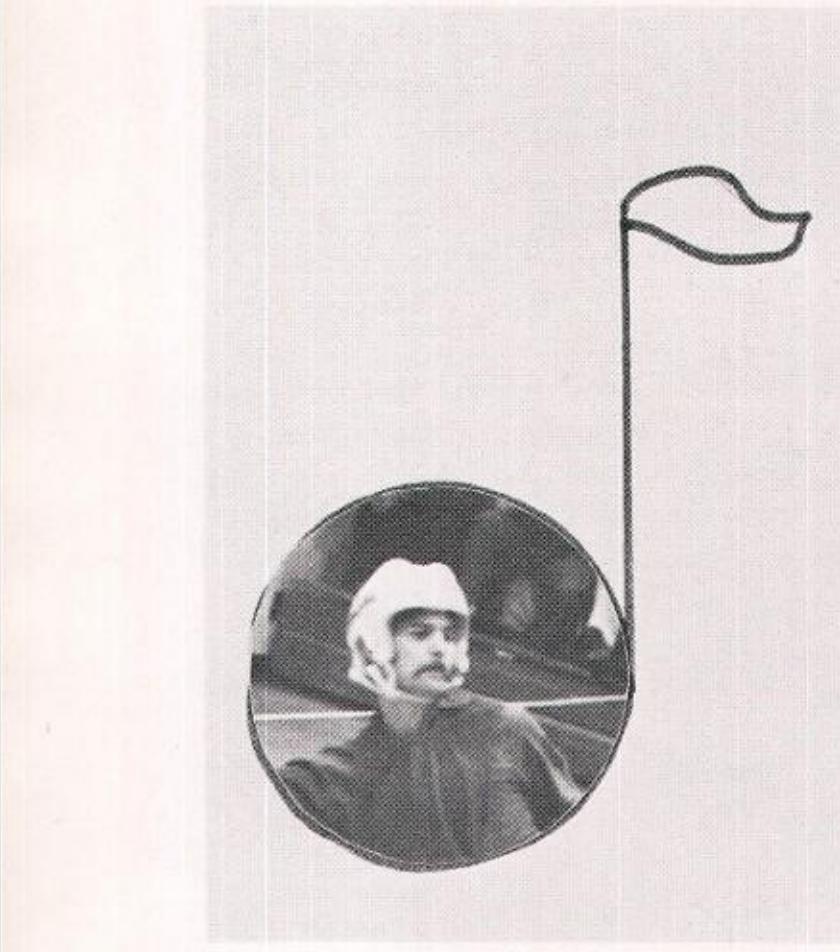

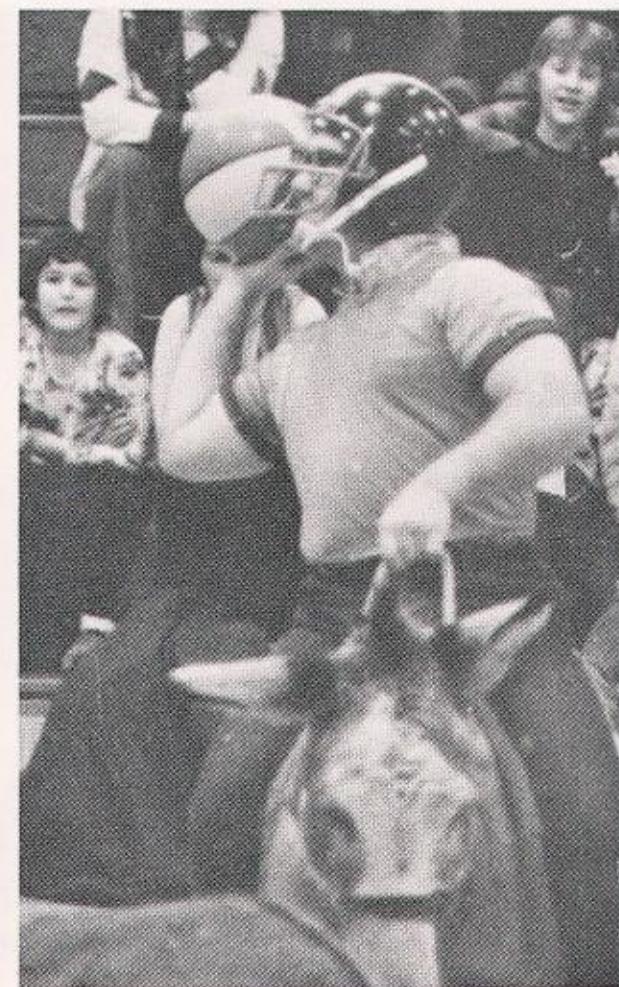

Miss Bender: "How does my hair look?"

Mr. Blose: Walking sure beats riding.

Mr. McIntyre: "Who's coaching this game?"

Dear Diary,

Tonight I had my first big date with Dan . . . We decided to go some place exciting, so he took me to the donkey basketball game. Of course I had to pay my own way in since he spent all of his money buying his own ticket. At the game we had lots of fun watching the donkeys kick and run around while the riders tried to mount them. (One donkey really reminded me of Dan). When Dan took me home he didn't even walk me to my door. That's the last time I'll go out with him.

Mrs. Pretz: Half-time entertainment—"Almost Anything Goes!"

Dear Diary,

Tonight we went to the basketball game held between the men of the WHS faculty and the men of the WMS faculty. All night long Alice was swooning over some guy who was sitting on the other side. I was much more interested in watching our handsome faculty whip those middle school teachers. During the half-time entertainment, Alice went over to meet this guy on the other side. She found out he was a sixth grader from the Middle School. Alice didn't say much on the way home.

YEARBOOK SPONSORS

Dear Diary,

Tonight Dave and I went to the big deal Warwick Monopoly. We were about the only ones there, so we both got a turn to go around for the seniors, but nobody could really ride that unicycle, so we had to push it. They had properties like June's Tune-ups, Paist's Glue Factory, Watkins' Glen, Felger's Funny Farm, and Maxine's Body Shop—all named after teachers. It was an okay evening—different than television and better than studying for that vocab quiz tomorrow. I'm also putting off my term paper again, but what would a term paper be if there were no last minute rush to add to the excitement?

Pooped now, so that's it for tonight.

FUND RAISERS

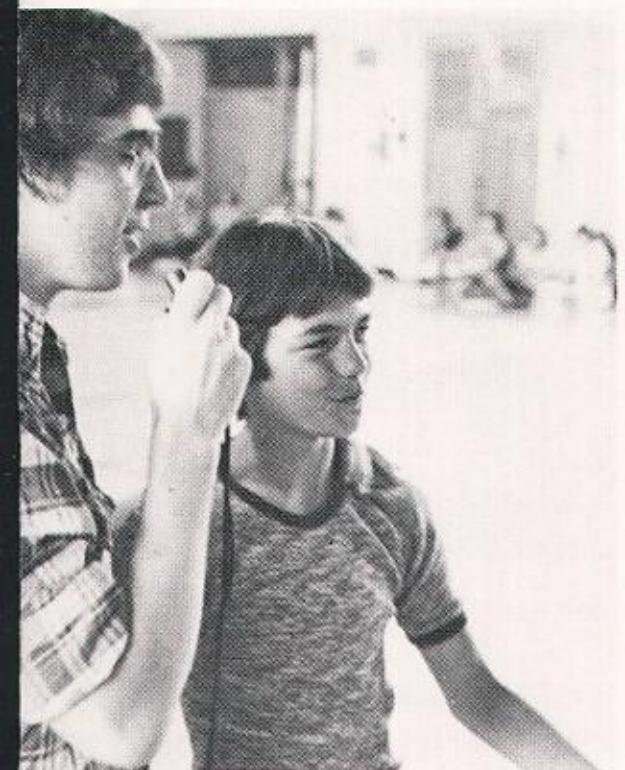

Dear Diary,

Slave Day was such a big event this year that it had to be held on two days until all the slaves were sold. I was going to be a slave this year, but last year I was one, and I had to carry around a ton of books and about fifty trays during lunch hour.

The auctioning was done quite well. I especially liked the way they brought out slaves in blankets to be sold. Doug Tolley bought a harem and Davie Weachter got hit by a pie for not paying for his $9.00 slave!

Love ever,
Marcie

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS SHOW OFF TALENTS

KELLY MANN: Mrs. Lange, the art teacher says that Kelly Mann is an "all-around art student in the art media". What one may not know is that Kelly has a special talent for theater; acting, set-designing, and makeup. He uses this talent making stage sets and doing makeup for a theater group called the Maranatha players. He also did a makeup demonstration for WGAL. Among Kelly's achievements are a first and a third prize in the Women's Club Art Show. Mrs. Lange comments, "He spends more time in the art room than any other student in Warwick history". While not in the art room Kelly Mann can sometimes be found wandering the halls in a realistic-looking ape suit that he made himself.

KAREN MAUGER: Karen Mauger's merited talent is sewing. She has been sewing for six years and has enjoyed every minute of it. Her mother is responsible for teaching Karen to sew. She sews a lot of her own clothes and also some items for contests. A men's tailored jacket won her a fourth place in the Pennsylvania farm show. She won a first place award in the Lititz Women's Club Sewing Contest with a white dress, which also won fourth place in county competition. Although Karen would make an excellent seamstress, she plans to become a lab technician.

MY Y AND THU THUY NGUYEN: When My Y and Thu Thuy came to Lititz from Viet Nam they brought with them a very special talent. This talent is the ability to crochet amazingly beautiful items. One of the things they crochet is a short sleeved sweater with a complicated design which has won them prizes in the Women's Club Sewing Contest and the Pennsylvania State Farm Show.

SHELLY VOUGHT: Shelly Vought has many talents. One of her talents is in music, but she has also been awarded for her good citizenship and character. She won an award from the Daughters of the American Revolution for her outstanding citizenship. She was also named as a representative to the girls' state governor's camp. She was named the "Teen of the Week" by the Lancaster New Era and "Senior of the Month" in the Lititz Record Express. For her musical talent Shelly has made county band and county chorus and was also named to the honors choir. She was named an outstanding music student by the Purdue Hall of Fame. She plans to major in music education at Gettysburg College.

MARK WORKMAN: Mark Workman is another art talent worth noting. His strong point is water colors. He idolizes Andrew Wyeth and studies his paintings. He has studied under Kent Carson, Floyd Hackman, and Dave Brumbach. Mark won a gold key at the Lancaster County Scholastic Art Show for a painting he entered there. He is also entered in the New York Scholastic Art Show and is a nominee for the national Hallmark Award. He was named an alternate candidate for the Governor's School of Arts. Accepted at Bucknell University, he would like also to attend the York Academy of Arts. With Mark Workman's artistic ability it is possible that we may someday see his paintings in important art galleries.

AFTER SCHOOL

Dear Diary:

Brother, are my legs ever tired. I have been pounding the sidewalks for weeks trying to secure a well-to-do job. I'm really willing to do almost anything . . . anything, if someone would just give me the opportunity to prove myself. All my friends have jobs after school or are tied up with other obligations. The job market seems to be going out of control. Where can I get a job? I could cry every time Tim or Carol complain about how "hard they have to work every night." They don't know what it's like to be a senior and be unemployed. Well, maybe I'll have better luck tomorrow. It's getting late . . . I better get some sleep.

Dear Diary,

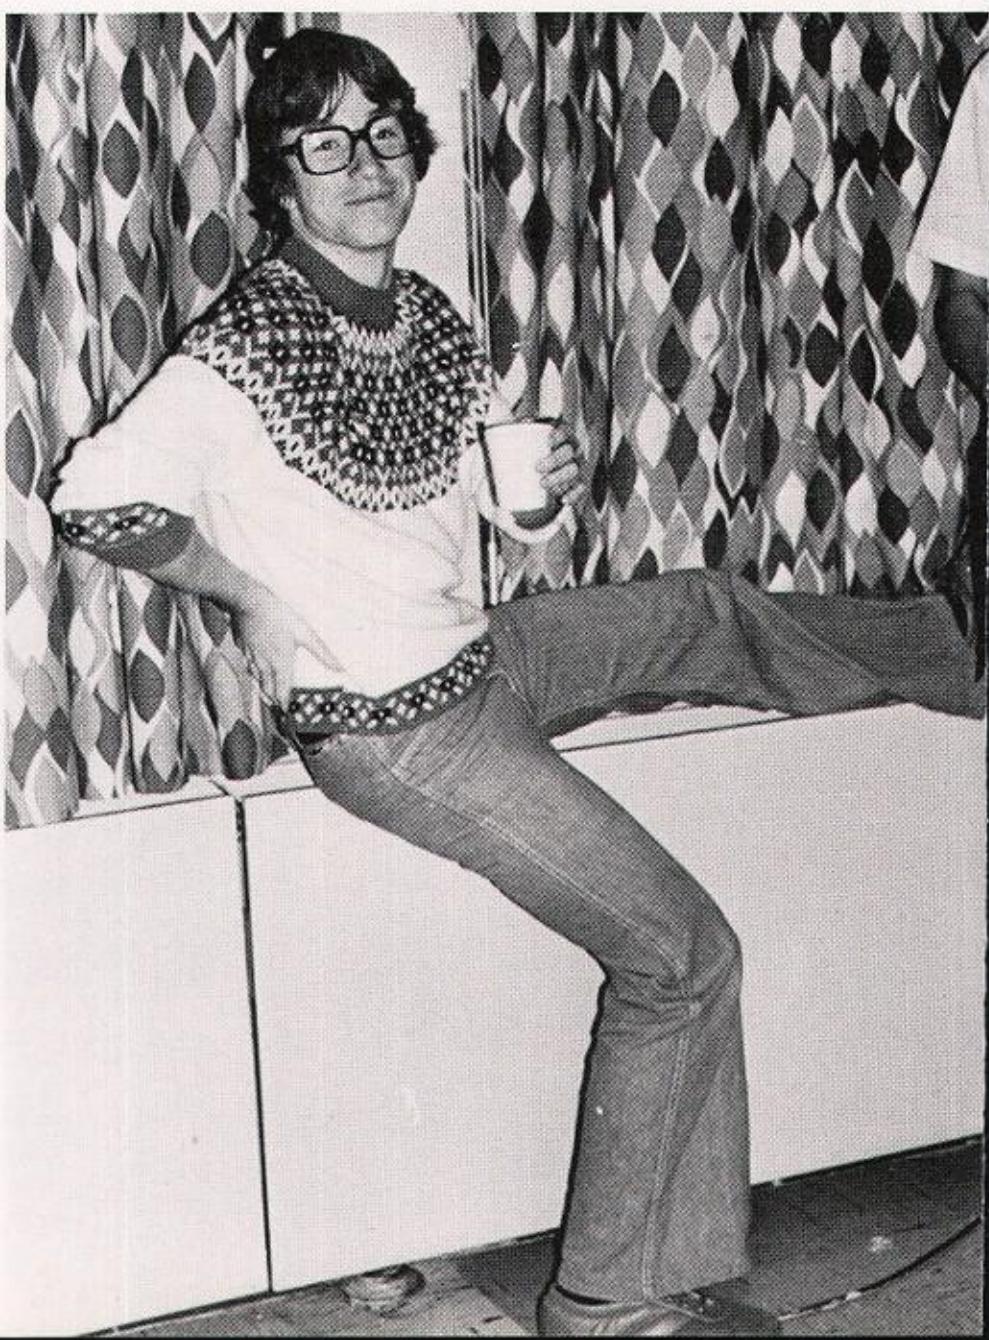

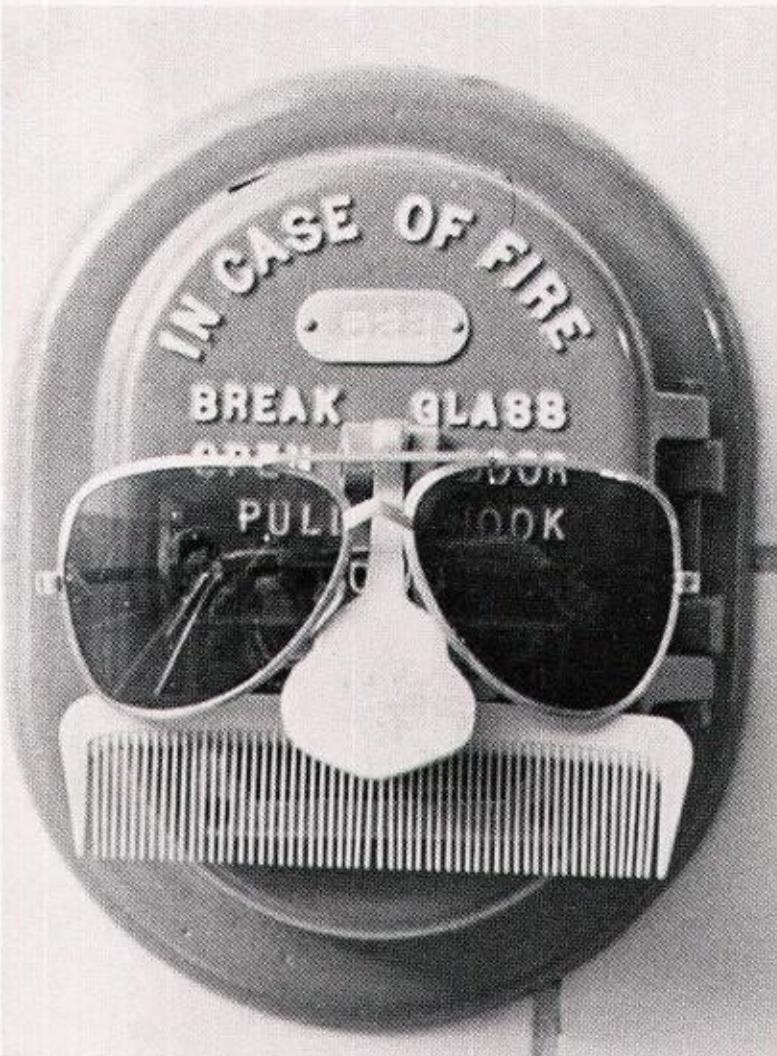

The imagination of some people is just unbelievable. Here are just a few pictures that Capital Records could have used for covers for some of their newer albums. Radio station WHS takes pride in their records and asked me to share them with the students at Warwick.

Once again,
Marcie

Dear Diary,

Today was a pretty typical day in a lot of ways, but it got off to a bad start because we had fire drill practice on the bus and the buses are so crowded when everybody has to ride. After school I just refused to take the bus; got Jon Gurney to take me home in his custom-painted pride and joy. Between second and third period we put sun glasses and a comb on a fire extinguisher and made a person out of him and Little Clark took a picture of it (nobody knows his name; he's Cathy and Lew's brother, but who knows freshmen?) After lunch Karen Mauger and Yolanda Rhodes and I practiced demonstrating the Wonder Body Exercizer in the front lobby for our health class project. It was hilarious. There's not too much else to say about today, except that Gary Dietz entertained us in the lounge sixth period and someone threw a paper airplane in my baked beans at lunch. Dave was sick today. Or else knowcking off.

Cari Jo Cavalcante: Spirited M.C.

Jim Longenecker: Comic.

Sharon Smith, Patti Snavely: Senior Duo.

Dear Diary,

May 6, 1977

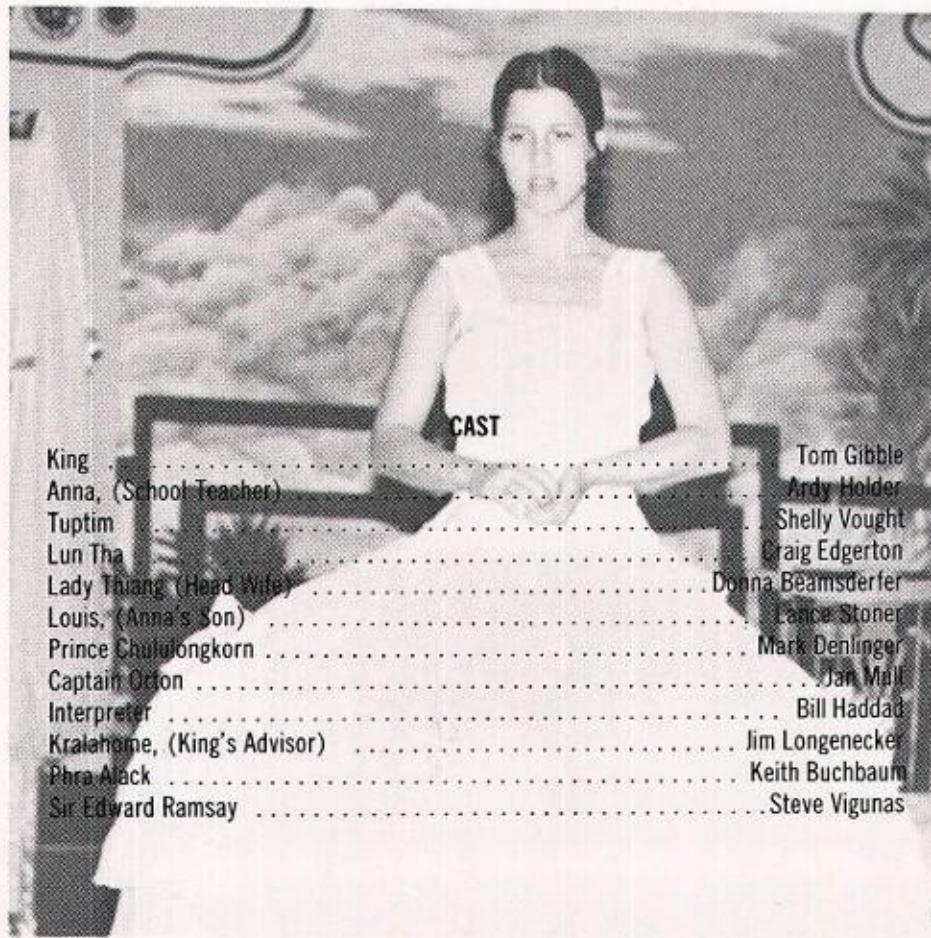

Hi! Today was the best 'cause of the nifty talent show we had during fifth. Lisa Zimmerman played piano and sang and it was beautiful! I didn't realize she sang so well. Mike Houshower played guitar and sang; he has such a good voice. Those people have a lot of guts to get up there. They are all so talented. It was great! Craig Edger-ton did "Breaking Up is Hard to do" really wonderfully and Duane Doutrich played rock guitar with a strobe light flashing. Everyone gave him an ovation and he even did an encore! WOW!

My fav was those girls, "Harmony." They could really ring. Jim Pettyjohn, Craig, and Gary Derck were guitarists and organist (respectively) in an original song by Jim (he's the most). It was called "Western Sunshine." I loved everything. Patti Snavely and Sherri Smith, who only practiced one night together, played "I Got a Name" like they were playing together for years! What a show! Well, I guess I better be goin', I've blabbed too much tonight. Today was a better than average day at Warwick.

As always, Marcie

A BIT OF "BROADWAY" ON LOCAL SCENE

May 13, 1977

Dear Diary,

Considering today was a Friday, and the 13th at that, it was terrific. I went to see the musical tonight and just loved it. The scenery was so beautiful and the costumes were undiscernable. It seemed so professional and well rehearsed. Tom Gible stole the show as the King. His soliloquy "Is a Puzzlement" was one of his best scenes. Ardy Holder played Anna very well and sang lovely. They were all so good!

Let's see—Shelly Vought and Craig Edgerton did great as Tuptim and Lun Tha, and I thought Donna Beamsderfer had about the strongest, nicest voice I've ever heard in a high school play. She was the head wife. The children were cute and the play scene was one of my favorites. You know, one thing that really caught my eye was the good make up job. Those behind-the-scenes people were obviously excellent in all areas. I think they should be applauded too. It was well worth it all. I truly say it was the best play I, myself, have ever seen done at Warwick.

Dear Diary,

Spring Fling Week has started and it'll be fun. Tomorrow is Jeans and T-shirt Day and I'm going to wear my "Save the Texas Pararie Chicken" t-shirt. Wednesday will be Hollywood Day and Thursday—Flower Day. Dave better give me a flower or I'll grind him into one. Friday'll be best. That's Marx Brother's Day. Dave and I are going as Chico and Harpo. I can't wait to honk my horn at all the people who drive me crazy. Too bad we won't make it to the dance featuring none other than "Harpo". But I heard from a very reliable source that they play loud at dances and leave your ears ringing. Saturday is the Spring Fling carnival. Groups from the school are entering stands. It really sounds like a lot of fun. Dave and I want to be sure to go to the baseball toss. Of course I'll talk him into buying me some of the baked goods. The carnival starts at 1:00 so I'll have to get up early. Sunday is the powder puff football game between the juniors and seniors. I wonder who will win?

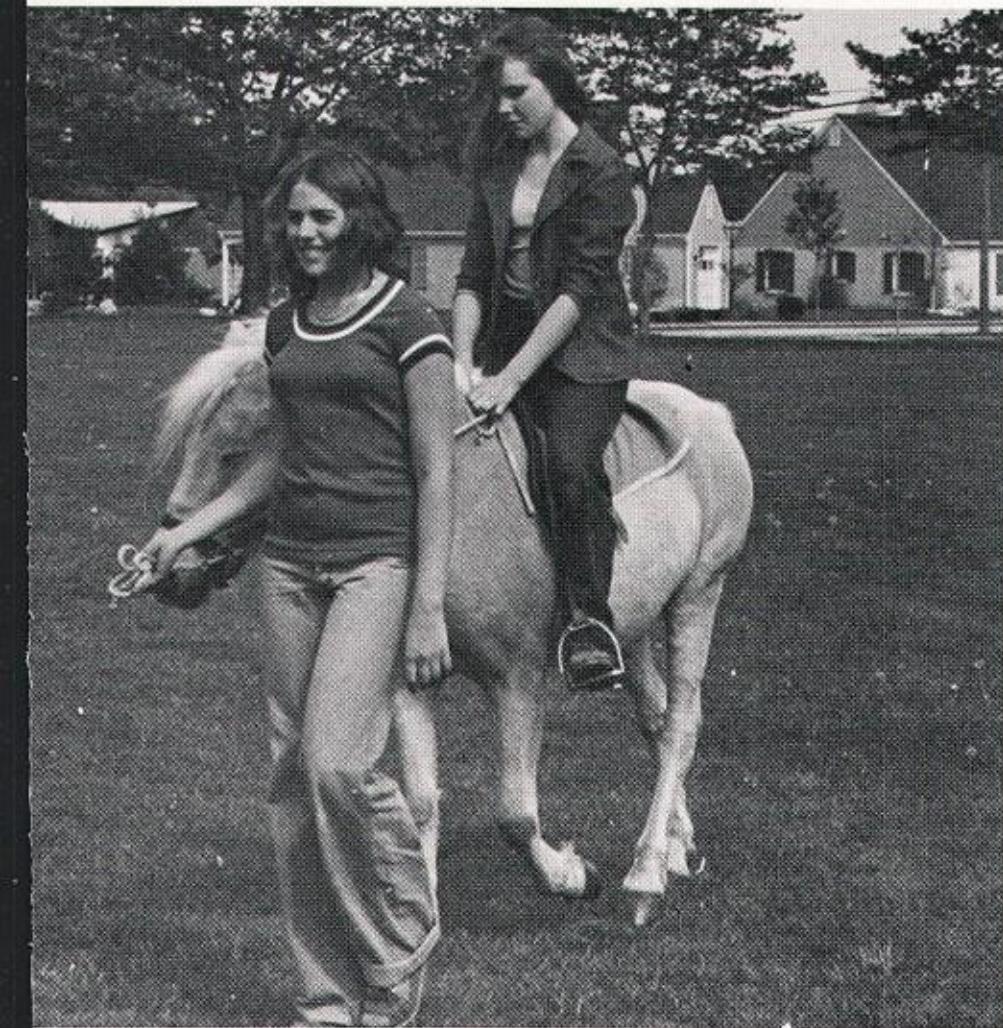

So Much for now,

MAY 6-8 IS SPRING FLING WEEKEND

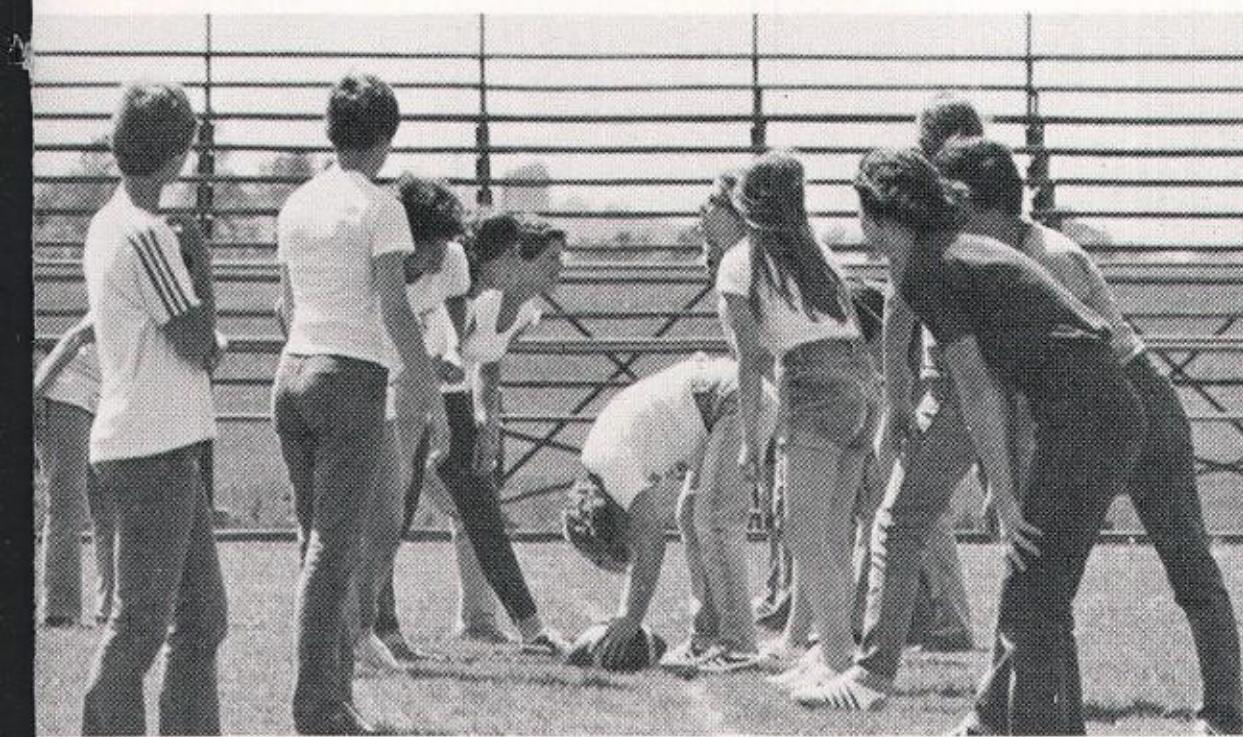

Dear Diary,

May 8, 1977

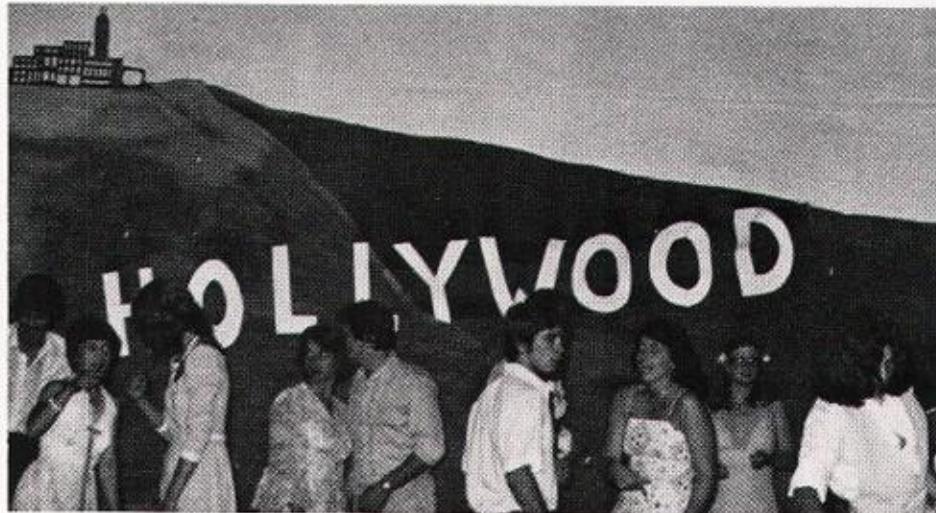

Spring Fling is over now. Today the senior and junior girls were supposed to play football, but hardly any junior girls showed up. Yesterday was the big carnival. Lots of groups and clubs had stands to raise money, and I liked it well enough. Only problem was walking around all day with that blasted cotton candy stuck to my cheeks and fingers. Friday night I was too tired to tell about the volleyball marathon. Dave and I played until midnight when I was so pooped I felt like I would turn into a pumpkin at the twelfth stroke. I'll see ya later, diary, I have to catch up on my homework for tomorrow. Monday. YEECH!

As always,
Marcie

Dear Diary,

Goodmorning. What an evening! Last night was the prom and Dave took me. It was really neat and I just think the juniors did a great job with the post prom. It was held at the Host Farm—the prom, that is—which is by Dutch Wonderland. We were afraid the food wouldn't be very good when we got there cause it was in the basement and very dark. We thought perhaps they didn't want us to see what we were eating. But the food turned out to be delicious and the somberness to be "atmosphere" and all was fine. Well, we got pictures taken and then we all danced till eleven doing the bunny hop, alley cat, and polka. Dawn Steffy was selected prom queen! Scott Ruth was her escort (who else).

Maxwell played at the post on a mirrored Elton John stage that Clair Brothers had gotten. The theme was Hollywood and the decorations were great. In the gym were stars' dressing rooms and "Hollywood Squares" made with posters of stars. Strips of film hung about and silver stars sparkled in the cafeteria. The food was good there too. It was fun and there's so much more to tell, but I'm running out of room, so goodbye. What a wonderful night to be a senior!

The 1976 Warriors, under first year coach Mark Snyder, brought winning football back to Warwick. The team started the year off in good fashion, traveling to Conestoga Valley and upsetting the Buckskins 7-6. The defense seemed to be the key in the win. The following week the Warriors played a tough York team. Turnovers cost the Warriors as York won 26-7. Warwick then traveled to Cocalico to meet the Eagles, but the team was plagued by problems all afternoon and lost 20-12. The team came back home to host the Elco Raiders. A third quarter touchdown was enough for a 8-7 Warwick win. The following week Penn Manor came to play Warwick in the mud bowl. The specialty teams played a big part in a 22-7 victory. Solanco then came to Lititz and became victim number four. Warwick trounced the Mules 41-3. Next Warwick traveled to Columbia and shutout the Crimson Tide 23-0. As the season rolled on, the Warriors became contenders for the Section II championship. The Warriors traveled to E-town, to meet the Bears. E-town scored first and led 7-0. Warriors had some team breakdowns, and lost 22-0. November 13 was Homecoming for Warwick, as they hosted M.C. Barons. The Barons dominated the game and defeated the Warriors 16-7. Finally Warwick traveled to Ephrata, to close out the season. The Warriors pounded the Mounts 21-0 and received the George Male Traveling Trophy.

My first football season at Warwick was most enjoyable and very rewarding. I am able to say that because of the untiring efforts of many hardworking and cooperative people in our school and community. Most important, I am very fortunate to have a hard-working and dedicated coaching staff, and our staff was very fortunate in 1976 to have many hard-working and dedicated football players.

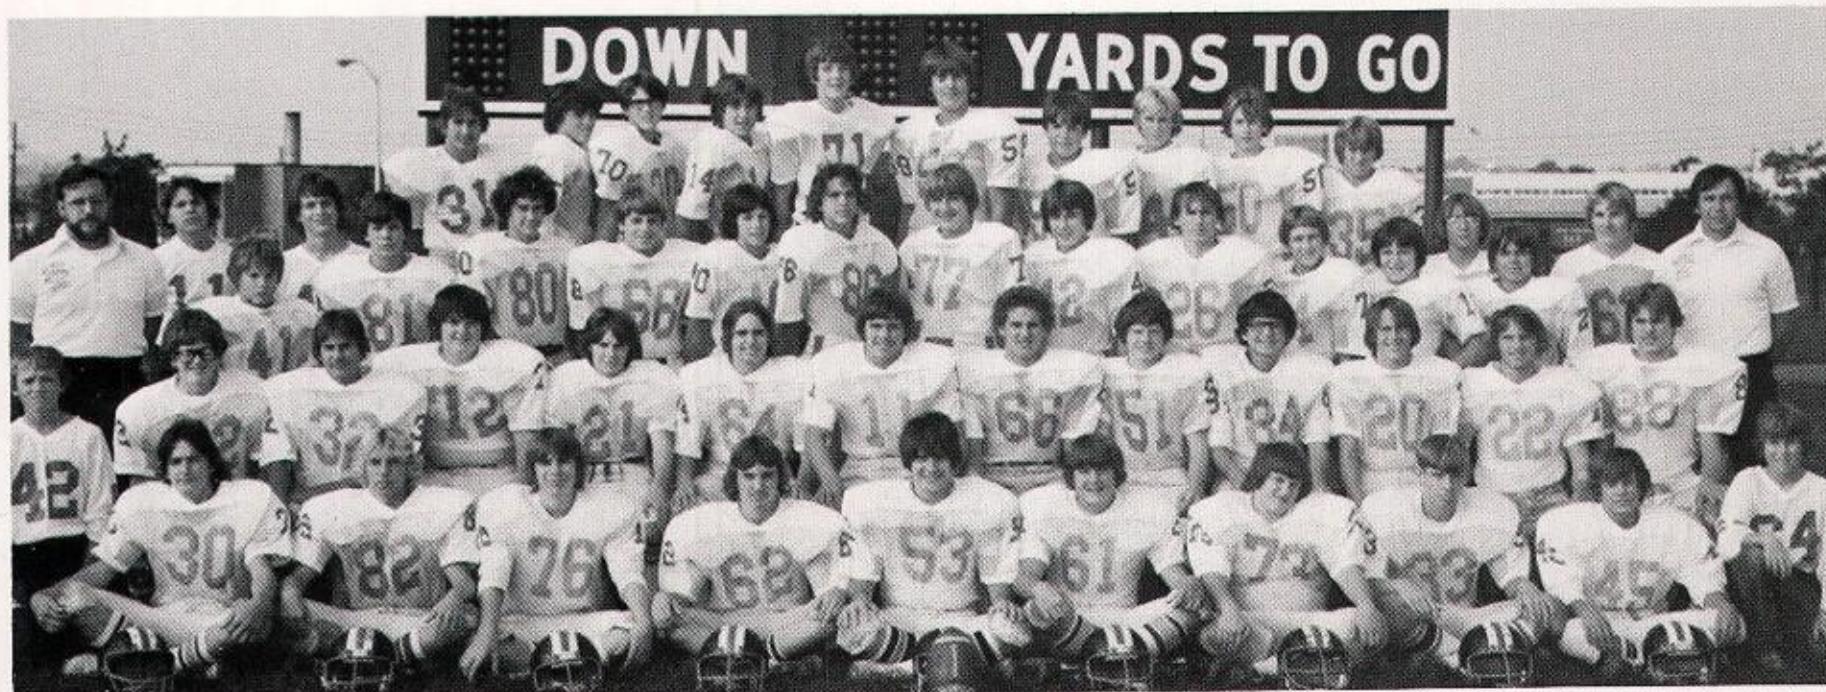

It is difficult to find the proper words to express the feelings that the coaches have for the members of the 1976 Warwick High School Football Team. We hope that our players learned as much and gained as much satisfaction during the 1976 season as the coaches did. It was a pleasure working with the fine young men who made up this year's football team. Nobody on our team put himself above the team, and the 1976 football season was truly a team effort.

The varsity football team had its first winning season since 1972. But the brightest spot was the junior varsity team. The little Warriors had an outstanding 6-0 season, but the spectacular achievement was their unscored upon season. Over the season they shutout C.V., Cocalico, Elco, Donegal, Columbia, and Penn Manor.

The junior high football team also had a good season. The younger Warriors suffered a few tough losses, but bounced back with a winning season. Despite winning just one of their first four games, they came back to finish with three wins, two losses, and two ties. If that shows their desire, there will be more winning seasons at Warwick.

Tremendous wins. Heartbraking losses. The 1976-1977 Warwick hockey team experienced both of these. Their first win was over Penn Manor, whom the Warriors had lost to countless times before. Although the match was only a scrimmage, it heartened the girls for the rest of the season. The girls played superbly in most of their matches, but the offensive line had trouble scoring. Most of the matches that they won were won by a score of 1-0. The lone goal was usually scored by Denise Zimmerman or Missy Gabecker, who was the leading scorer on the varsity team. Goalies Cari Jo Cavalcante and Cindy Sipe deserved some credit, for they only had four goals scored on them the entire season. With the encouragement of co-captains Denise Zimmerman and Cari Jo Cavalcante, the varsity team displayed their hustle and determination in such games as E-Town, Lebanon, and Cocalico. E-Town had been a rival to Warwick for a number of years and the girls were determined to beat them. Well, they didn't beat them but tied E-Town to a 1-1 tie. Lebanon and Cocalico were inspiring wins, with the offensive line finally breaking their hex and scoring three goals against Lebanon. Cocalico was one of the girls' roughest games and a well-earned win. The season was one of the best seasons Warwick has had, and one the seniors will long remember.

Inexperience was one of the major factors that contributed to the Junior Varsity's losing seasons this past year. But if spirit would have had anything to do with the seasons log, the JV's would've been first in the division. Their first match was against Penn Manor, whom they lost to, 3-0. However, this didn't discourage the young team. They went on to beat Cedar Crest, 1-0. The large number of freshmen that turned out was a pleasant surprise for coaches Moyer and Spangler. Many of the freshmen got the chance to play in some of the JV matches and played well for their first year on the team. Sharon Heagy and Becky Sload were the co-captains of the team and kept the team morale up even after disappointing losses to E-Town, Donegal and Manheim Central. The JV team didn't have the same trouble with scoring as the Varsity did. Kathy Jo Gibble was the leading scorer on the team, with a total of seven goals. The JV's last match was against Cocalico, to whom they lost, 5-0. It was a sad way to end the season but next year holds promise with so many young girls returning.

HARRIERS RACE TO 12-5 SEASON: THIRD BEST IN WARWICK CROSS COUNTRY

The 1976 Warwick cross-country team finished with the third best record in the school's cross-country history. Coach Hank Rush coached the team to a very respectable 12-5 season. It was truly an accomplishment to capture a 12-5 record, even though it was only good enough to finish fifth in the league standings. Mike Bomberger, a sophomore, was the spark of the harriers, grabbing many first-place finishes in dual and tri-meets. Other help came from experienced seniors: co-captains Don Williams and Steve Shuman, and Craig Edgerton and Jim Hoffer.

GOLFERS FIGHT TO 5-4-1 SEASON: PALKOVIC, MEIER LEAD TEAM

This year's Warwick golf team, led by rookie coach Faye Meier, could have been called "the team that almost never was." Slated for extinction by the Warwick School Board in a budget-cutting motion, the group of Warrior golfers, aided by Mrs. Meier and several prominent Lititz residents interested in golf, rallied to save the squad from an early death. After the Board moved to adopt a golf squad in 1976, the boys, led by four-year letterman and co-captain Steve Palkovic, benefitted from a short one-week preseason to record a fine 5-4-1 tally in rugged league play. Palkovic was helped on the course by junior Lee Bartholomew, seniors Mark Summy and Larry Kimbrough, and newcomers Brad Arnold and Jeff Stark.

Although the 1976 Warwick golf team filed only a better-than-average record, the story of the fight for students to play a popular lifetime sport such as golf could be considered one of the key triumphs for the success of interscholastic sports at Warwick.

A symphony of power and quickness, the 1976-77 Warrior wrestling team, led by second year mentor Gerry McDonald and rookie JV coach Tom Stutzman, raced through supposedly tough Lancaster-Lebanon League Section One unbeaten in nine matches. The matsters clinched the crown with a 24-18 victory over Manheim Township, the first Warrior win over the Blue Streaks since seniors Row, Edgerton, Glessner, Grube, and Clinton were only one year old. However, the success of the season came from surprising underclassmen, notably sophomores Chip Nuss, Jeff Rosenberger, Steve Bass, and Jim Mellinger, and juniors Troy Clair, Chuck Adams, and strongman Pete Slivinsky. Although individuals make a team, the unique togetherness of this year's Warriors was the key to the title.

"We didn't only learn wrestling, but we also learned pride in our team, respect of all and fear of none. Determination was the key to this year's success, but we really conquered the league with outstanding individual attitudes through thick and thin."

JUNIOR HIGH WRESTLERS ROLL TO UNDEFEATED SEASON

Although Warwick High convincingly won a Lancaster-Lebanon League wrestling title this season, much credit must be given to the Warriors' Junior High Wrestling program. Headed by Coaches Bob Derr and Dale Dietrich, the basic fundamentals of wrestling were diligently taught to 50 boys in seventh through ninth grade at Warwick. The boys worked hard and strode towards a third consecutive L-L Junior High League title. With youngsters such as lightweights Glenn Walter, Tim Diem, and Darryl Krushinski, and heavier grapplers such as Scott Ruhl and Russ Richelderfer, another fine group of ninth grade talent heads for success on the varsity squad.

Most Warwick wrestlers have participated in the Junior High program, and with each group of graduating seniors leaving is another group of eager youngsters in seventh grade with eyes dreamingly on wrestling for a championship Warwick team. Coaches Derr and Dietrich, with the intent of letting each boy participate in at least one wrestling match, hold a big key to the bright future of Warrior wrestling.

"We all knew we had the potential of a winning team. I don't think anyone can explain why we didn't do better than we did. We all had it, but I guess it just wasn't enough."

Denise Zimmerman

Determination. Although prevalent in all the girls' games, it didn't seem to matter much when it came to winning the season. Inconsistency seemed to be the major factor which affected the girls' games. Lancaster Catholic, always a formidable opponent, shellacked the Warriorettes, 57-41. The girls had talent and skill, but when it came to putting it to use in the big games, it just seemed to disappear. However, certain teams that required the utmost skill in ball-handling were Cocalico and Manheim Township. The girls responded to the challenge and beat both teams twice. One honor that the Warriorettes could boast of was the fact that Cari Jo Cavalcante was nominated to the All Star team. The Warriorettes were expected to have a much better record with all the experienced starters from last year returning. However, a 4-8 record is not much to brag about. Certainly, it provides a challenge for the returning players next year.

ROOKIE COACHES TEAM TO WINNING SEASON

The girls J.V. basketball team was almost without a coach. Luckily for the team, Miss Drager, a business teacher, volunteered her services as assistant coach to Miss Slagel. Coach Drager guided her young team to a winning season. Sophomore Carol Balmer and freshman Bev Hess led the dribblers in scoring. Carol Morgan and Sharon Heagey also held positions in the starting line-up. Nancy Gingrich and Brenda Shumaker took turns starting in the number five position. The last game for the Warriorettes was their most memorable win. They traveled to C.V. and beat them by a score of 52-11. Carol Balmer was high scorer with 19 points. Bev Hess contributed 12 points. All the J.V. players will be returning next year with experience to make the team stronger!

The 1977 Warwick basketball team proved to be one of the top teams in the county, if not the state. The starters consisted of seniors Brian Brewer, Andy Bender, Dean Cochran, and Gary Rynier, and junior Ron Martin. After a slow and frustrating start, the Warriors got it together for their league action. The roundballers played their first big game against the Cocalico Eagles, at Cocalico, like a see-saw, until Cocalico saw the winning points. It was a heart breaking loss for the Warriors, but they still were in the race. They'd meet Cocalico again in the second half of the season.

The Warriors lost to both Cocalico and Ephrata in the first half of the schedule, but that was only history. The Warriors had a rematch January 25 with Cocalico. In that game Brian Brewer led the team to victory with an outstanding offensive performance. Warwick was the last team to beat Cocalico before they went on to become state champions. But weeks later they experienced their most memorable loss—to Cocalico for the Section Championship.

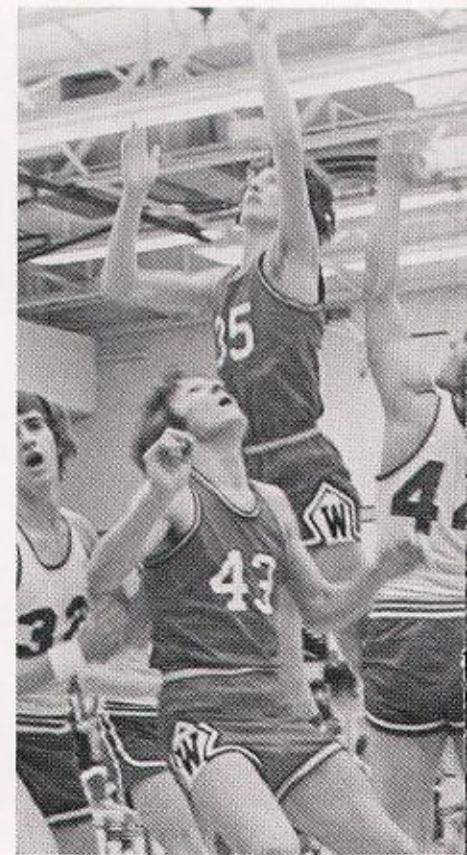

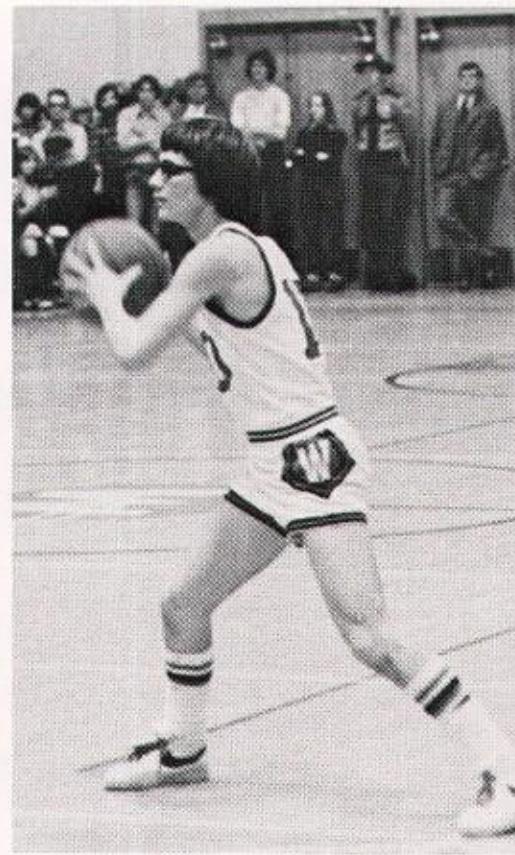

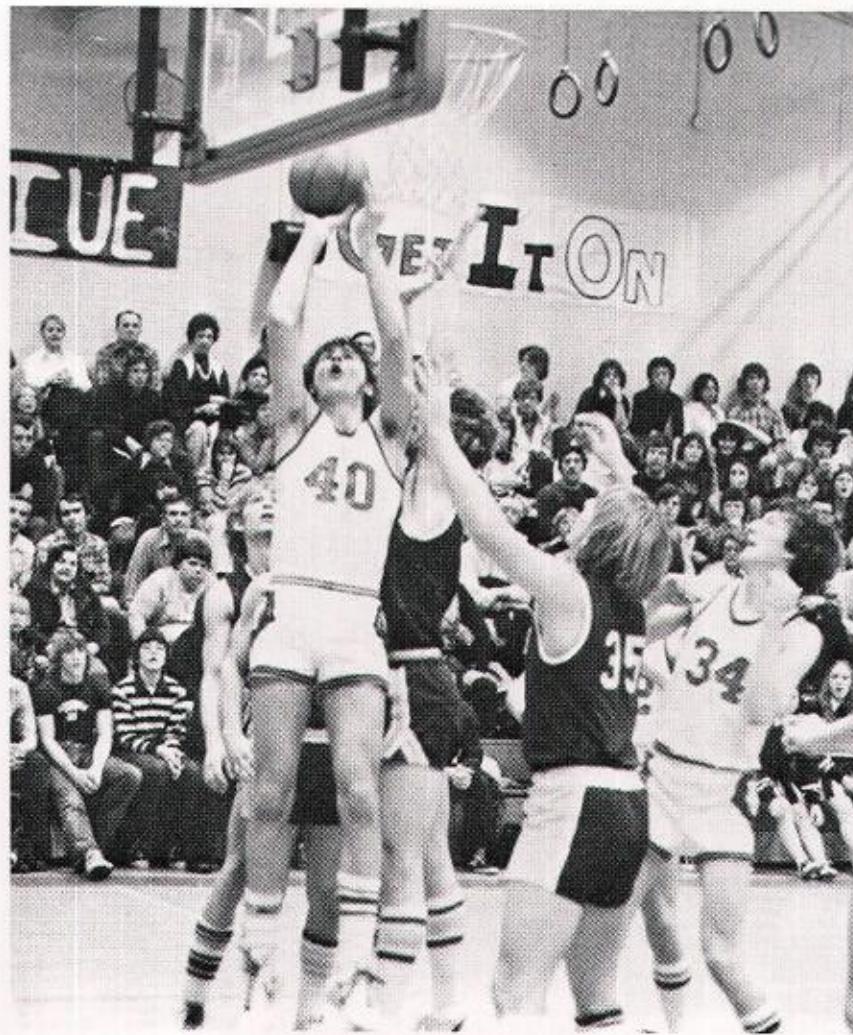

The success of the season was not only credited to the five starters. Much recognition should be given to Jere Glick, Tony Grove, and Mike Bomberger. Henry Gibbel also did a super job, but was out most of the year due to an injury.

Gary Rynier not only led the team in scoring, but also led the section. He was selected for the All-star game along with Brian Brewer and Dean Cochran. Brewer received All-county honors along with being second highest scorer on the team.

Dean Cochran also did a fine job in the back court with Andy Bender. Bender probably exemplified the game of basketball the best throughout the season.

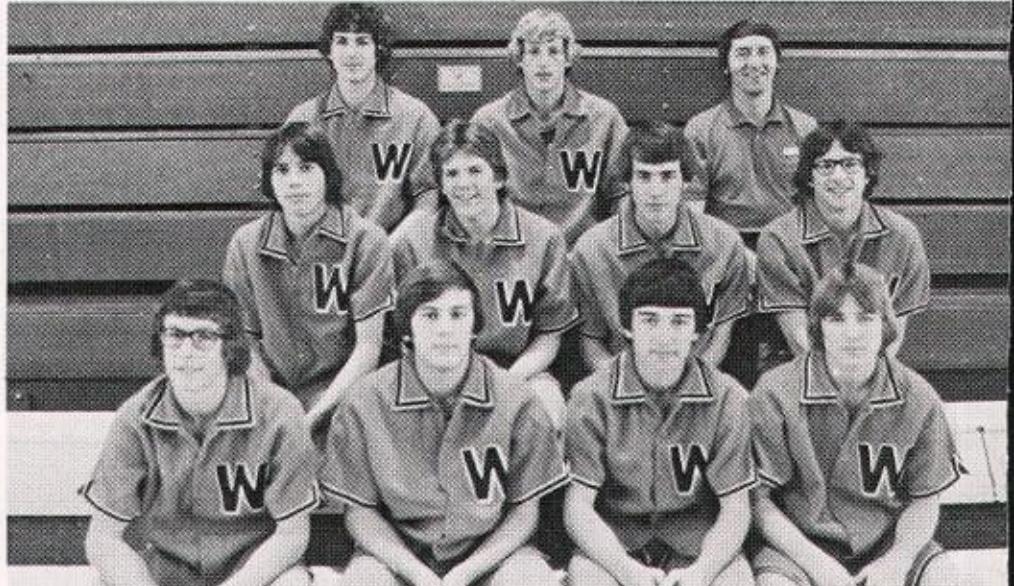

Coach Althouse compiled another good record, and also made the All-star team. An outstanding coach and great individuals acting as a team made it an exciting season.

The 1977 J.V. basketball team compiled another excellent record. Under expert coaching and experienced players, the team experienced only three losses during the league action.

Brett Tennis, Mike Harley, and Doug Kaufman were the juniors on the team. Both Harley and Kaufman saw much action during the season, but due to an injury, Tennis looked on from the bench most of the season. Other players who saw a lot of action were: Bill "Erv" Chappell, Greg Weaver, Dean Hess, and Jim Hollinger.

John Knier played both varsity and J.V. Knier was one of the big scoring punches. Knier and Chappell usually led the column in scoring. Hess and Hollinger did a sensational job controlling the boards. Greg Weaver did a splendid job on many phases of the game.

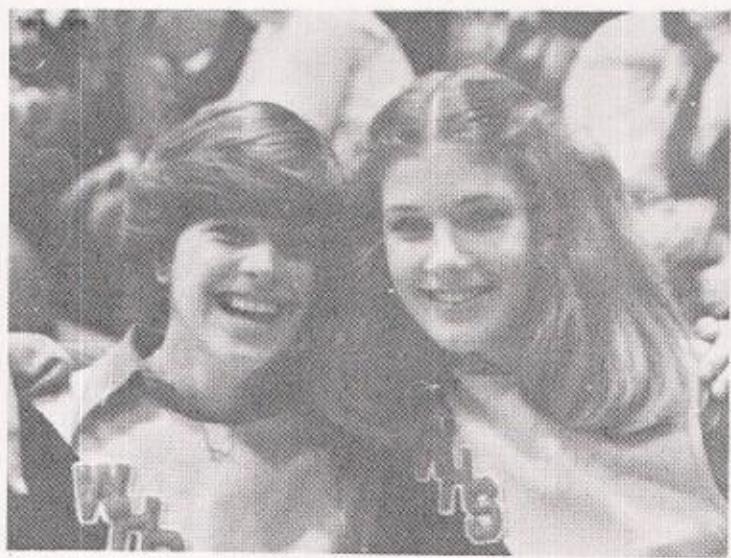

The Junior High had a winning record of 9-7. The high point in their season was beating undefeated Lancaster Catholic in their final game of the year.

—Dawn Steffy

A cheerleader's work is never done. The phrase is changed slightly, but the meaning is still the same. During the third week in June ten members of the cheering squad went to a NCA—(National Cheerleading Association)—camp, Pine Forest, in the Poconos. They learned the basic "fundamentals" of cheering plus new cheers and new ways of promoting spirit. When the cheerleaders returned, they brought a Spirit Stick along with them. During the hot August days, while many people were out sunbathing or swimming, members of the cheering squad could be found at the high school painting signs and giving drinks to the football players. The cheerleaders also decorated the football players' pillow cases for Homecoming. The cheerleaders decorated locker rooms, buses, and hall lockers for the players of football, hockey, cross country, wrestling, and girls' and boys' basketball. The cheerleaders' season ended March 12, when '77-'78 tryouts were held.

"The season was thrilling and exciting. Even though we had our ups and downs, it was fun with our new coach."

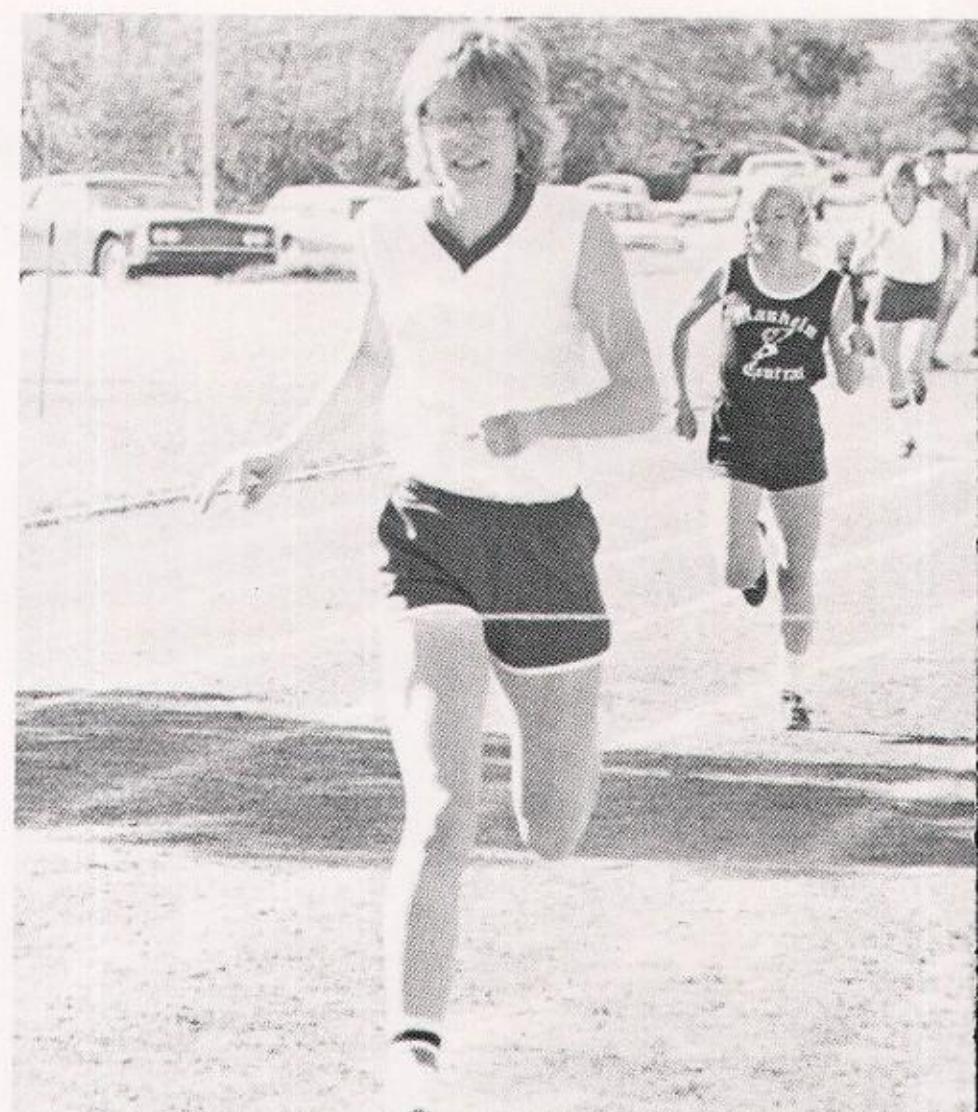

—Andy Bender

After a good season start, the Warrior baseball team fell off drastically to finish with a 6-6 record. After winning the first four league games, the Warriors lost six of their next eight games. The pitching seemed to be the major weakness for the "Big Red". Senior three-year starter Scott Ruth pitched well, but Warwick needed one more top starter. Andy Bender led the team with three home runs, while Tony Grove batted .473. Sophomores Mark Shelley, Gene Miller, and Jim Hollinger contributed plenty of punch to the Warrior offense, while juniors Mel Harnly and Brian Eidemiller hit over .300 for the Warriors. Although the .500 record was only mediocre, Coach Jay Harry's rookie season was a valuable season for future Warrior baseball teams.

5 WARRIORETTES GO TO STATES

The 1977 Warriorettes, coached by Miss Slagle and Miss Bender, did not have a very successful first league season according to their won-loss record. However, looking at individual performances, one would say they were very successful. Cindy Rosenberger and Missy Habecker, the Warriorettes top scorers, qualified for the State finals at Shippensburg. Cindy placed fourth in the 440 run. Missy was unable to run because of an illness. The Warriorettes' spring medley relay composed of Cheryl Groves, Sharon Myers, Joy Keener, and Cindy Rosenberger also qualified for the State Semi-finals.

TRACKSTERS 5-6 IN 1977; BEST SEASON YET; BOMBERGER, SHEAFFER, WILLIAMS LEAD WARRIORS

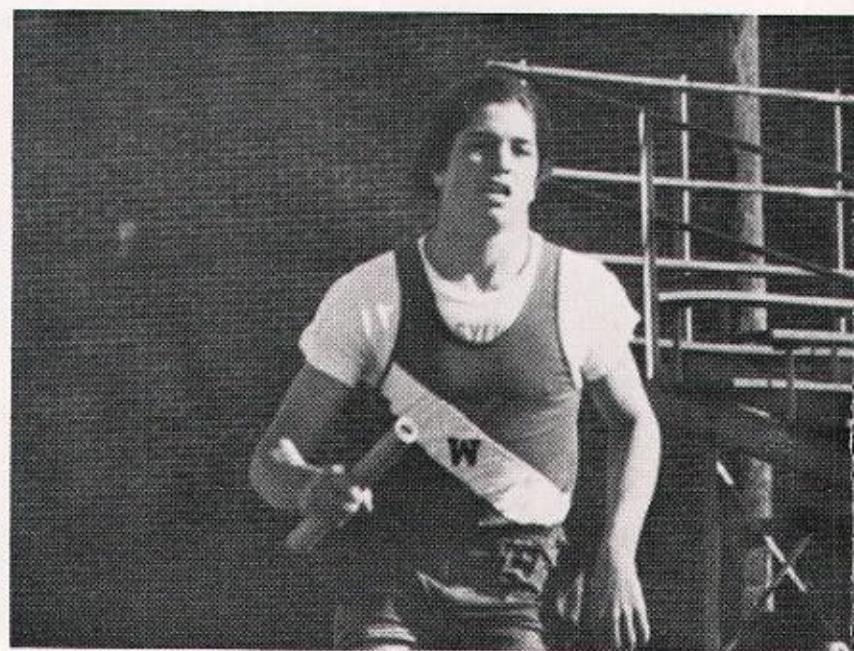

Through the casual air that the sport of track and field has at Warwick, this season's tracksters have more than reason to smile after posting a fine 5-6 slate in league competition. Although the sub-500 record certainly did not challenge top-runners Elizabethtown and Ephrata for the league championship, the season will go down as the most sucessful year in Warwick track history.

Senior co-captains Don Williams, Steve Shuman, and Brian Brewer paced the team to the good season, and were aided by top performances by fellow teammates Mike Bomberger, who led the squad in scoring with a school record 229 points; Jeff Sheaffer, who aced the team from the field events; and Gary Rynier, who paced the sprinters to an impressive showing.

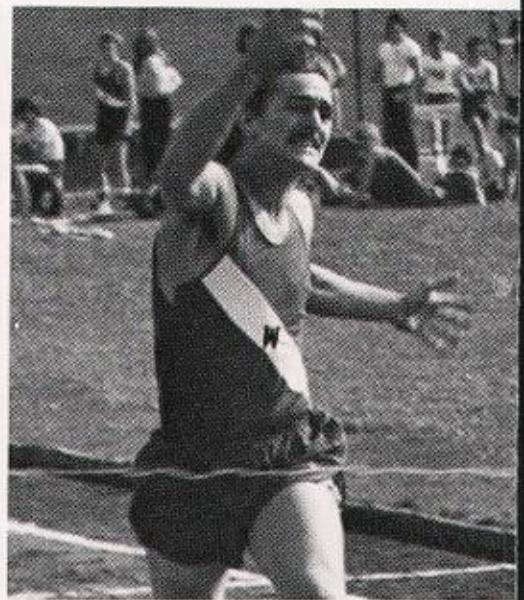

Bob Derr and Tom Clausen, the coaches of this year's team, were the brains behind the storm, and with a gallant effort from all members of the team, have created new interest for future fans and athletes alike for Warwick track.

Under the fine coaching of Miss Peg Gerhart, the girls' tennis team has had, for the second year in a row, a winning season. The girls had some problems with the tough teams, such as McCaskey, Cocalico, and Manheim Township. With perseverance and pride, the girls struggled against cold weather, rain, and injuries. Number One Senior, Cari Jo Cavalcante, had problems with her knee and sometimes the entire lineup was changed. Apparently, though, Denise Zimmerman, Number Two on the team, had no problems at the number one spot when Cari was injured. Patti Biemesderfer proved to be quite versatile for a sophomore. A lot of freshmen went out for the team which is good, as next year, all the seniors will be gone. have a winning season again.

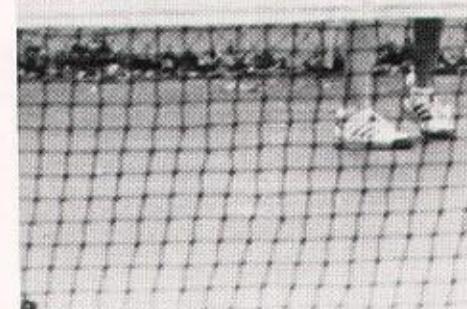

"All the girls were happy to have a winning season again. With hard work and perserverance, we knew that we could do it."

The 1977 Boys' tennis team coached by Mr. Warner, a Middle School teacher, was very young. The five starters consisted of three juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman. The junior starters were Ron Hemming, Joel Holsinger, and Tim Neuroh. Jeff Rosenberger was the sophomore starter. Brian Mac Ferran, a freshman, was the number one man on the team. Even though the young team did not have a very successful season (4 wins-13 losses) the experience they gained should help the 1978 tennis team.

BAND TAKES FOURTH

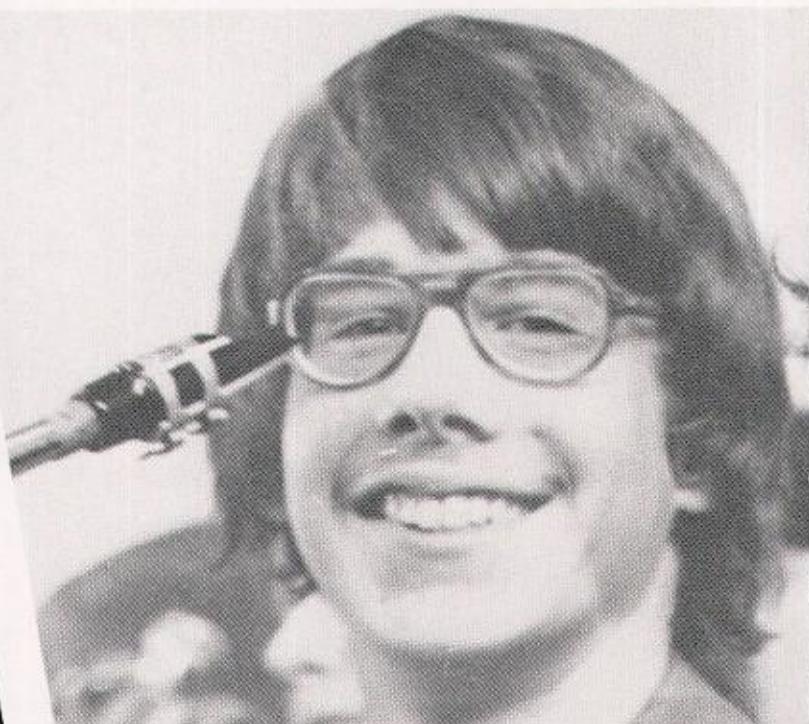

The Warwick Senior High School Marching Band ended its band season by taking fourth place in the National Competition at Veterans' Stadium in Philadelphia. The hard work involved in achieving this honor began long before many people realize. The initial show began just as an idea. Mr. Weller and Mr. Lehman wrote the music and the steps, but then it was up to the band members to make it work.

The band entered to Tchaikowsky's fourth and sixth symphonies. Between the entrance and the concert numbers, a medley of songs from West Side Story, the band played "Stouthearted Men." The colors were presented to "Victory at Sea," and the band exited to the "Great Gate of Kiev."

The band front was directed by Sheila Martin and Anita Balmer, and by Mrs. Linda Brown who directed the majorettes.

MRS. HOLMES IS NEW ORCHESTRA DIRECTOR

Mrs. Mary Holmes came to Lititz a year ago, after leaving the University of New York in New York City, where she had worked as a record librarian for four years. Upon her arrival in Lititz, she began to teach lessons on stringed instruments to students in the middle and elementary schools. This year she took an added responsibility by directing the orchestra, along with giving lessons.

The orchestra joined the Glee Club in December to give a Christmas concert. Later in the year the orchestra had a spring concert, playing several selections, including "The Waltzin Cat," and "Ballet Parisian." Following these concerts, the orchestra began practicing for the musical "The King and I." The orchestra also played for baccalaureate in June.

GLEE CLUB SINGS WITH GLEE

The Glee Club's year started with singing Christmas carols in September in preparation for their annual Christmas concert. The theme, "Christmas in the City," featured a large window with scenes that changed with the songs. Also featured was a nativity scene put on by the faculty with a live goat. The Glee Club ended its concert by singing the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah and "O Holy Night."

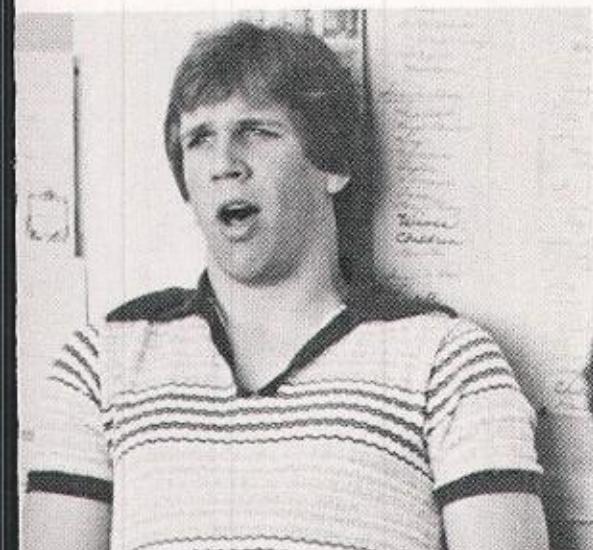

Three months later, on April first, the Glee Club teamed up with the orchestra for a spring concert, singing songs such as "The Heavens are Telling," "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee," and a medley of Neil Diamond pieces. During the program a singing commercial was done to promote the musical "The King and I."

ENSEMBLE AND FRESHMAN CHORUS

How often does one see several guys carrying several smaller guys across the stage while singing? Not too often unless he is in the freshman chorus, and their spring concert featured just this, in addition to stuffed animals and Mickey Mouse hats. "A Theme of Love," which was the concert's theme, was displayed amid candy being thrown during "The Candy Man," and dance steps during other songs.

While the freshman chorus held several concerts in the auditorium, the ensemble sang for organizations other than the school. At Christmas time the ensemble sang at the General Sutter Inn for the Lion's Club. They also sang for the Women's club. The ensemble, directed by Mrs. Lantz, is comprised of 28 students who also sing with the Glee Club. These students meet during club period and sing more for their enjoyment than to perform in concerts.

STUDENT COUNCIL OBTAINS JUKEBOX

The sounds of Queen have finally come to Warwick. Electric Light Orchestra, Kiss, and Wild Cherry can now be heard during lounge and lunch periods as well as other groups. These sounds have been obtained through the addition of a jukebox, which is only one of the recent projects of the student council. The jukebox not only provides the students with entertainment during their free periods, but also has eliminated some of the lounge discipline problems. The students have the responsibility to take care of the lounge. Any misuse of the lounge would mean an end to the lounge.

The student council also sponsored a Spring Fling weekend, which consisted of a spirit week with dress-up days, a talent show, a volleyball marathon, a carnival, a dance featuring Harpo, and a powderpuff football game. The money raised from the marathon was given to the multiple sclerosis foundation. In addition to these projects, the student council participated in their annual activities such as collecting for AFS, homecoming week, and a variety of dances.

NHS CONTINUES AT WARWICK

Contrary to popular belief, NHS doesn't stand for No Hope Scholastically. Instead, it represents the National Honor Society. The Society, which promotes scholarship, leadership, character, and service, was subjected to much discussion in the past year and was nearly abolished. Each year, some qualified students weren't chosen and others were chosen whose character, leadership, or service was questionable. Because of all the controversy, the school district had decided to discontinue the society.

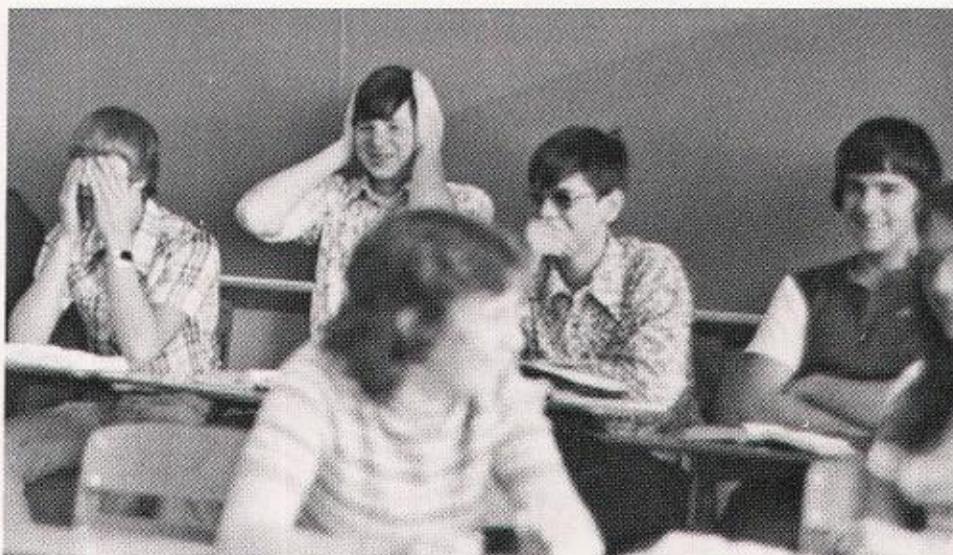

Thanks to the loyal members of the National Honor Society, this organization will be around at least several more years. The society members attended board meetings, met with the administration, and finally convinced the district of the worthiness of the society.

On June 1, 1977, the new members for 1977-78 were inducted into the National Honor Society. Speeches by Paul Richwine, Shelly Vought, Patricia Snavely and Ann Strause covered the four areas on which the prospective members are judged. Hopefully, these new members will continue in the steps of the 1976-77 members and make the National Honor Society an organization to be proud of at Warwick.

Some new selections on the agenda this year were badminton and the motorhead club. A number of clubs became involved with school activities by entering booths in the Spring Fling weekend, including the Varsity Club, the National Honor Society, and the Junior Activity Club.

Although most people don't think of the FFA as an exceptionally active club, in actuality they are. In November the senior members of the FFA took off a week of school to fly out to Kansas City for the National FFA Convention. In April the FFA did a pesticides presentation on WGAL, in May they did a landscaping project in which they planted trees at the Lititz Elementary School, and also in May, the FFA did a beehive project. Finally, of course, the FFA sponsored two donkey basketball games to pay for their annual banquet.

This year's FHA was unordinarily busy too. Along with their weekly bake sales that are for their benefit, the FHA had a bake sale that benefited the March of Dimes. Also, they had a stationery and two candy sales. In March of 1977, the FHA attended the State FHA Convention in Pittsburgh. At the end of the year, the FHA had a mother-daughter banquet. The club officers were as follows: President Judy Bucher, Vice-President Dianne Mast, Secretary Karen Diem, and Treasurer Donna Longenecker.

Last but not least, Warwick's most active club, FBLA, was doing its thing too. In October the FBLA sold programs at football games and attended regionals. Around Christmas the FBLA sold Christmas items. Also, early in the year the FBLA attended Spring regionals at Penn Manor, sold daffodils for the American Cancer Society, and played a large role in the Spring Fling. The club officers were President Donna Fry, Vice-President Jodei Fritz, Secretary Karlee Hostetter, Treasurer Chrystal Olesh, and Historian Jane Fry.

Subscribers and buyers of the 1976-77 Teepee Topics discovered something new about the newspaper. In addition to its usual features, news, sports, and editorials, it contained a special section written by Gary Miles that was dedicated to all those music-loving fans of Warwick.

Under the leadership of editor-in-chief Tim Phillips, business manager Fran Gross, and sports editor Dave Caldwell, the newspaper staff moved aggressively to increase its audience. 200 subscriptions were sold—double last year's number—and many additional copies were sold to non-subscribers. It is estimated that each paper is read by about five students, so the reading audience of the paper probably includes almost all of the student body.

"SOUNDS OF WARWICK" HIGHLIGHT '77 WARRIAN

The two perennial problems of the typical yearbook staff were again the chief concerns of this year's Warrian: finances and photography. Since 1973, the cost of the Warrian has gone from approximately $5,000, to approximately $8,000 even though the number of pages has been cut by sixteen and the size of pages was cut from 9x12 to 8½x11. Thus, book prices have soared from $6.00 to $8.50, and the staff has begun fund-raising activities to help balance the budget.

After the graduation in successive years of Dan and Lewis Clark, two more Clarks started in as rookies this year to ease the photography problem. Senior Cathy and freshman Kenny carried the bulk of the load, with assistance from Robin Haines, Greg Fissel, and Ray Kelchner. However, much credit is also due to the sports editor at the Lititz Record, known to Warwick students as Mr. Palkovic, who has given numerous sports pictures to members of the Yearbook staff.

This year's theme for the yearbook was "Sounds." As most students know, each year a new theme is chosen for the Warrian. (Last year's theme was "Whee! the People.") To further emphasize the theme, this year a record was planned to go with the Warrian containing the "Sounds of Warwick," but it had to be cut due to a budget deficit.

SUPERINTENDENT, SCHOOL BOARD PRESIDENT LEAVE

Lead by chief negotiator William Owens, the School Board came to a contract agreement with the teachers early in September, thus delaying the opening of school for only one day rather than the scheduled one week delay.

Early in November, school board president John Evans announced his resignation from that office. He departed for what he termed as "personal reasons". His successor, William Owens, narrowly defeated Wallace Hofferth, 4-3 for the position of school board president. Owens said that it would be his intention as president to encourage community involvement within the school district.

Midway through the school year, the board voted 6-3 not to renew Dr. H. Dale Winger's post as school superintendent. He had served as superintendent for the past seven years. Owens then asked the citizens of Lititz to help the board members in selecting a new superintendent.

The board then continued to update and rewrite some of the guidelines and policies for students within the school district.

ADMINISTRATORS REMAIN FIRM, BUT FAIR

Mr. Kaufman: Conferring with a concerned parent.

Mr. Smith: Taking a break from a hectic schedule.

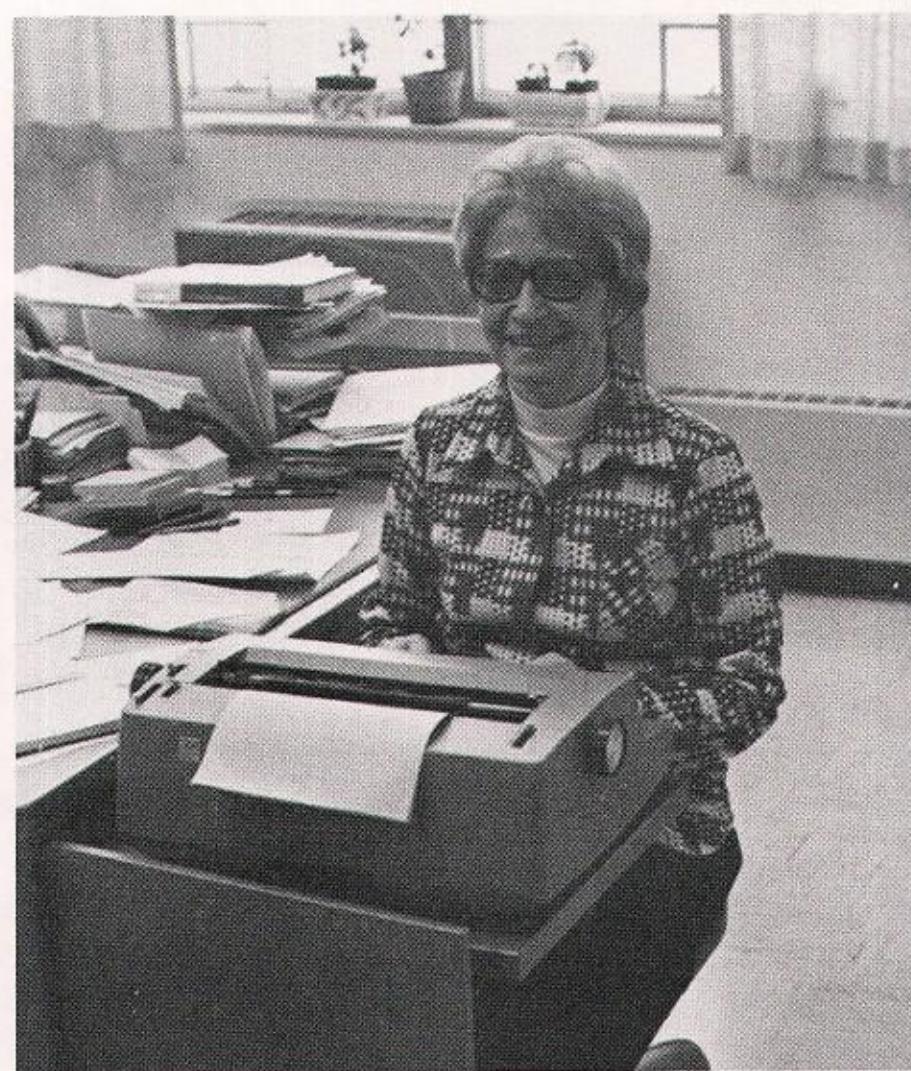

Mr. Swisher and Mr. Kaufman in their third year together as principal and assistant principal in the high school have not greatly mellowed as that time has passed. They still remain firm with students caught habitually cutting classes, smoking in school, and those continually tardy; usually providing them with a three day in school suspension.

This year, students thoroughly enjoyed Mr. Swisher's authorization for a jukebox to be installed in the cafeteria. The brave move of Mr. Swisher displayed his confidence as to the maturity of the students here at Warwick.

Dr. Winger: Business as usual during last year as superintendent.

OFFICE HAS HELP OF OPEN CAMPUS STUDENT

Many students think of the High School office as "the place you go when you're in trouble." This idea, however, is only partially correct. Each day the two secretaries, Mrs. Houchin and Mrs. McCarthy, have to prepare the endless absentee lists, have to know where each student is supposed to be, and have to type reports for their bosses Mr. Swisher and Mr. Kaufman. Not exactly a snap, but both secretaries seem to enjoy it. This year to help lighten the work load, Sue Resh came in sixth and seventh periods for open campus.

TWO NEW EMPLOYEES ADDED TO GUIDANCE

With 1150 students in Warwick High School, the administration found it necessary to add another guidance counselor to the department to accommodate this large number of pupils. Mrs. Carol Hearon, the new counselor, came from Alabama and graduated from Eastern Kentucky University recently. Another addition to the guidance department is the secretary, Mrs. Louise Shaffer. In addition to her numerous secretarial duties, Mrs. Shaffer also sets up appointments for students who wish to talk to one of the guidance counselors. The three counselors, Mrs. Hearon, Mrs. Rohrer, and Mr. Palkovic have a number of responsibilities, of which a few are helping students who are troubled, aiding in course selection, arranging parent-teacher conferences, setting up schedules, helping students in career choices, and sending out failure notices. Mrs. Hearon advises all students whose last names begin with A through those whose last names begin with G; Mr. Palkovic, all students H through Q; and Mrs. Rohrer, all students R through Z. All three counselors are very glad to talk to each and every student who seeks help in some way.

NURSE TREATS 2615 PUPILS IN DISTRICT

Treating about twenty students daily with ailments ranging from splinters to headaches to broken bones, Mrs. Hess, the school nurse, is always busy "doctoring" students. She must complete the annual height, weight, and vision check for all students in the school. Mrs. Hess must give TB tests to freshmen, and for juniors, she must supervise the hearing tests. Each school year Mrs. Hess must assist in physical examinations for hundreds of students participating in sports.

Last year, Mrs. Hess treated 167 high school students who had accidents. For the whole school district, 2615 injured students and emergencies were reported in her yearly report to the state.

Assisting Mrs. Hess in the health room this year were Jean Batturs, Barb Risser, Cheri Marks, Jolyn Ecenroad, Cindy Ebersole, and Dianne Mast.

With the winter of '77 being the coldest on record, the custodians occupied most of their spare time adjusting the thermostats in the individual classrooms. The crew never neglected any of their other daily duties like sweeping, mopping, or waxing the floors, while they were answering the cold demands of the students, teachers, and administrators for more heat.

CAFETERIA OFFERS THIRD CHOICE

Complaining about school cafeteria food is a national pastime among students. Our school, however, has the highest percentage of students who buy school lunches in the county. Many students do not realize the time and expense that go into preparing about one thousand lunches a day. In addition, each lunch must meet daily requirements for the basic seven food categories to receive government subsidies. These subsidies help to keep the school lunches at a reasonable forty-five cents. Mrs. Stauffer, the school dietitian, tries to plan meals that meet both the government regulations and the critical appetites of the students. This year a third choice was added to the lunch line-up. In addition to the type A lunch and the soup and sandwich lunch, the third lunch is a salad platter.

HALF OF ENGLISH STAFF NEW HERE

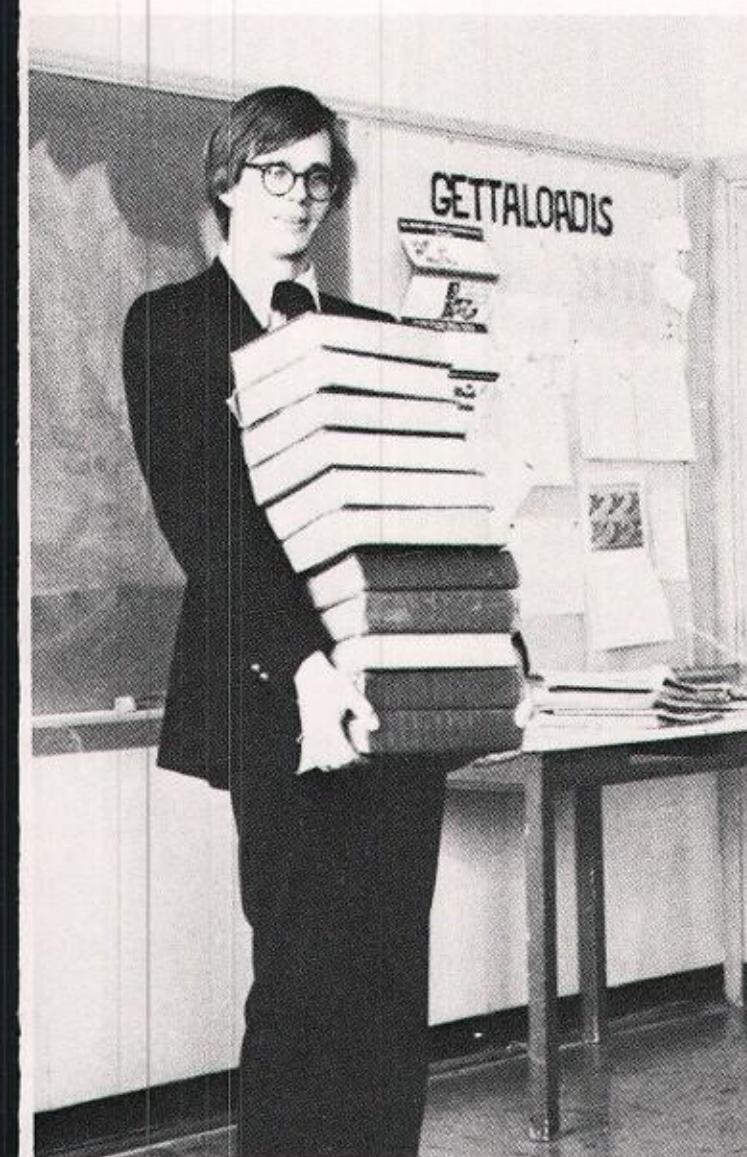

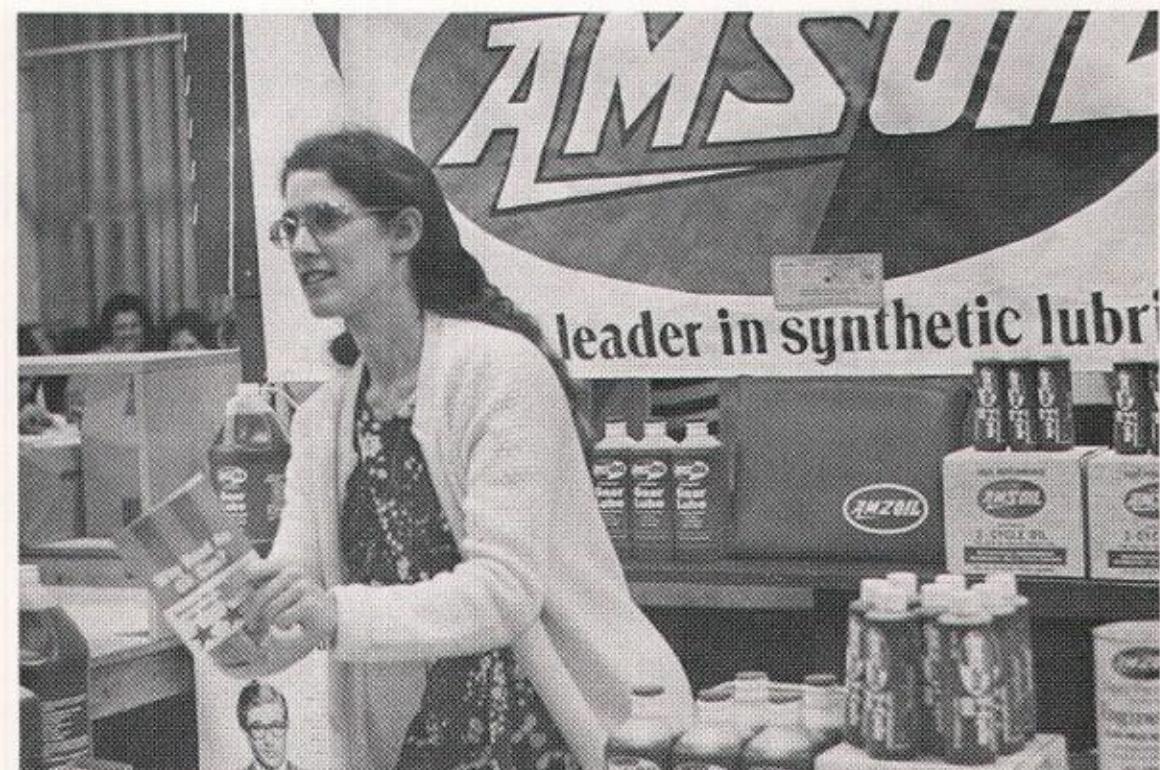

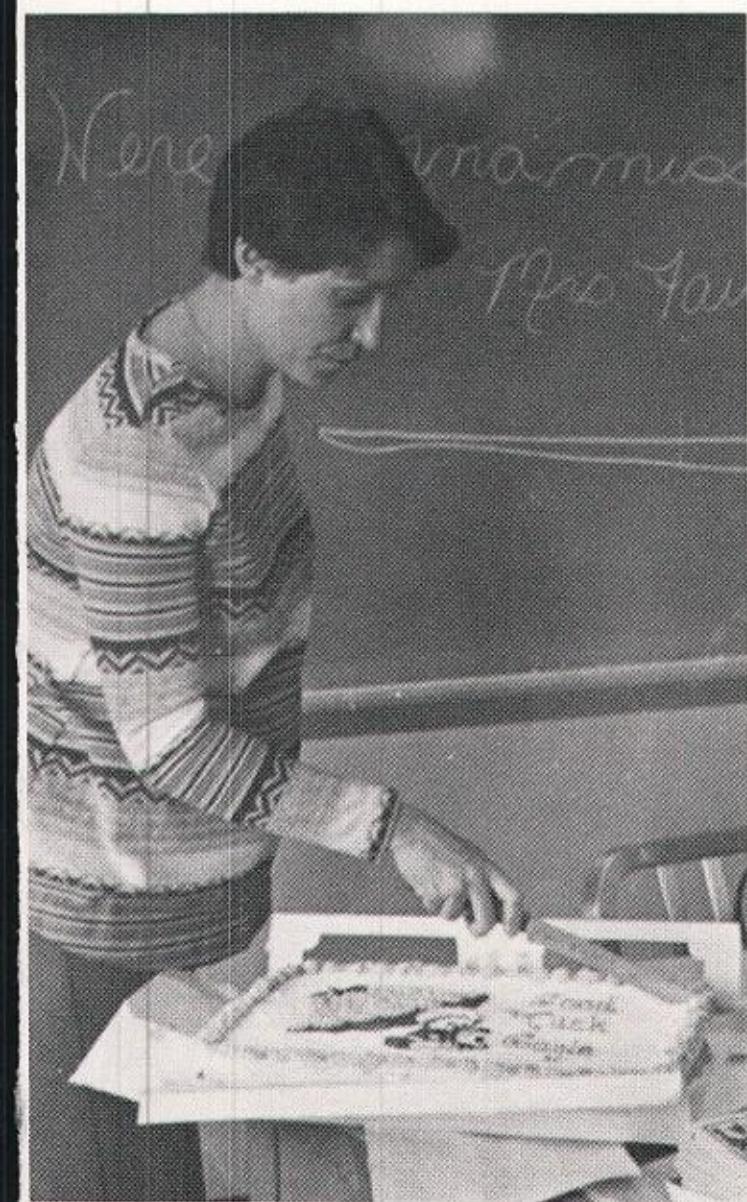

This year many changes have taken place in the English department. Mrs. Faulkner, a favorite of all students, left before Christmas to have her first baby and was replaced by Mr. Bard, a Warwick graduate. Mrs. Kline moved from the middle school to a twelfth grade slot here, and Miss Bender, a rookie, began teaching at Warwick this year. Finally, Mrs. Buchanio, who has taught in four other school districts, took on the job of drama director as well as English teacher.

The new and old teachers taught the basic requirements with their own style. What would ninth grade be without autobiographies, Huckleberry Finn, or To Kill a Mockingbird? In tenth grade students get a taste of both classic and contemporary literature with Romeo and Juliet and Mr. and Mrs. Bo Jo Jones. Tenth graders also have to do a career paper to prepare them for the inevitable term papers of eleventh and twelfth grades. Eleventh grade is the year of the term paper, The Scarlet Letter, the "Walden Idea," and the Great Gatsby. Twelfth grade English, the last formal English instruction for many students, is marked by another term paper, Macbeth, Hamlet, and Alive!

MALE TEACHERS LEAD SOCIAL STUDIES

Lead by an all male corps of teachers, the social studies department instills an interest in our American heritage. Freshmen students begin their studies of America from the early colonists to Franklin Roosevelt's "New Deal" era, with a large portion of their studies directed to the Civil War.

The sophomores take their past knowledge of the United States and compare its democracy to the communism of the Soviet Union. They look at the geography, the people, and the economy, and they relate it to that of the United States.

During the junior year, students widen their knowledge by taking a look at other countries throughout the world. The Middle East, Africa, and Japan focus most of the attention during the year. The students prepare a meal from one of the countries which they have studied in World Cultures. They choose the food for the menu, prepare it, and eat it by the customs dictated by that country.

Mr. Sukenik: Today the world; yesterday short hair?

Mr. Blose: Imitating a prisoner of war at the Storpenburg camp.

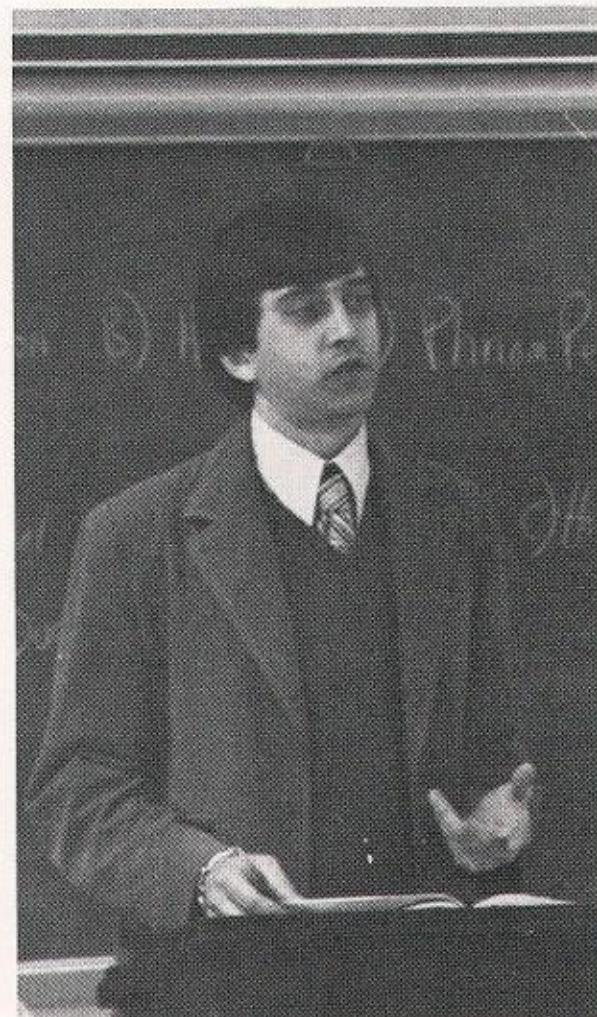

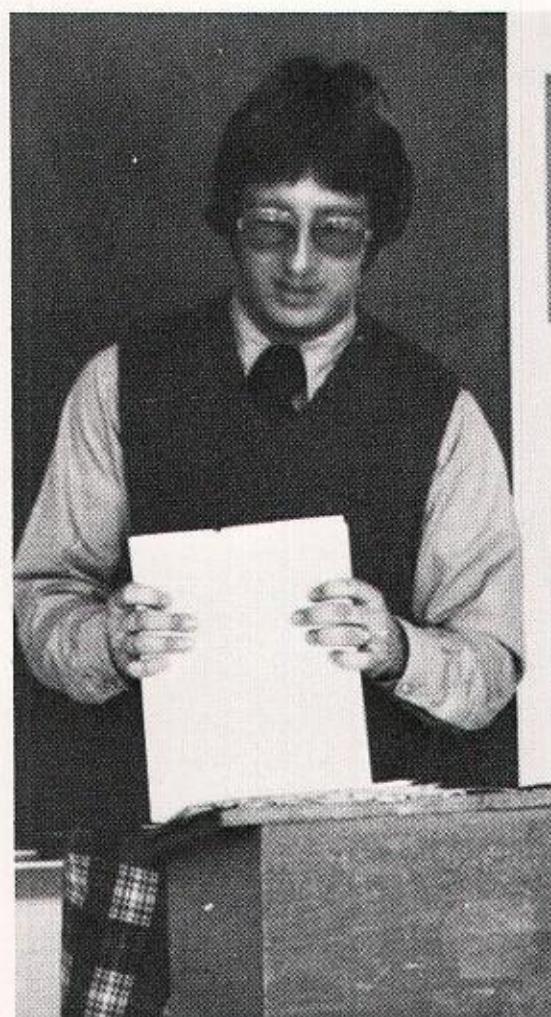

WALKER AND MINNEY ARE GUESTS IN P.O.D.

Mr. Baublitz: Another love letter for his collection.

Mr. Pohner: "See, I really did have hair at one time!"

The main objective for the POD classes is basically to study the problems of a democratic nation. This year the national elections in our country received much interest from the students. The classes had the opportunity to hear the two candidates from the 16th congressional district, who were vying for a seat in the United States House of Representatives. The students interrogated the candidates with many thought provoking questions so that they could form their own opinions of each candidate. After the election, it was Robert Walker, the Republican, who defeated Robert Minney, the Democrat, for the seat vacated by retiring Edwin Eshleman.

NEW PHYSICS LAB SOUGHT FOR NEXT YEAR

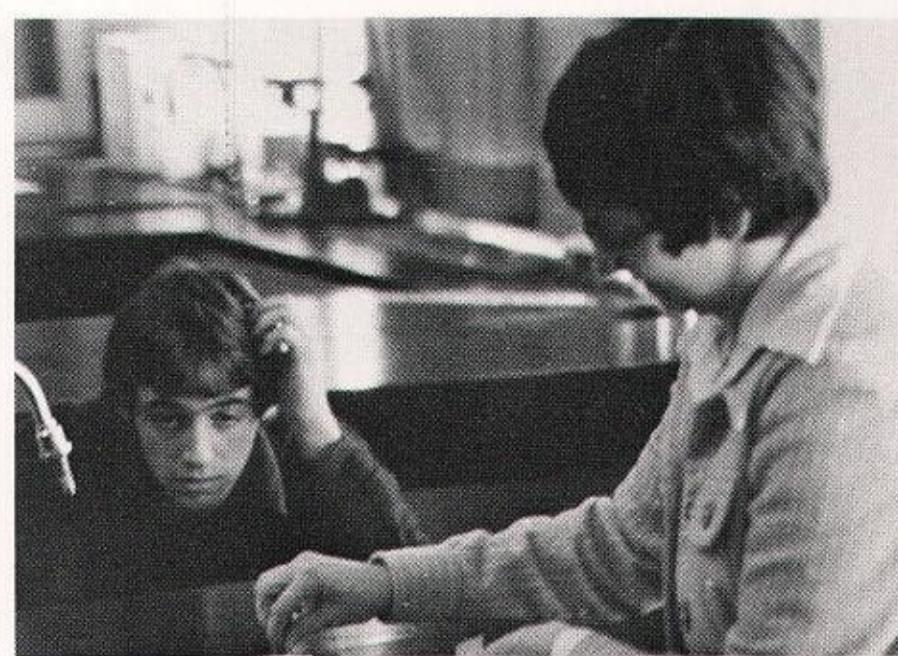

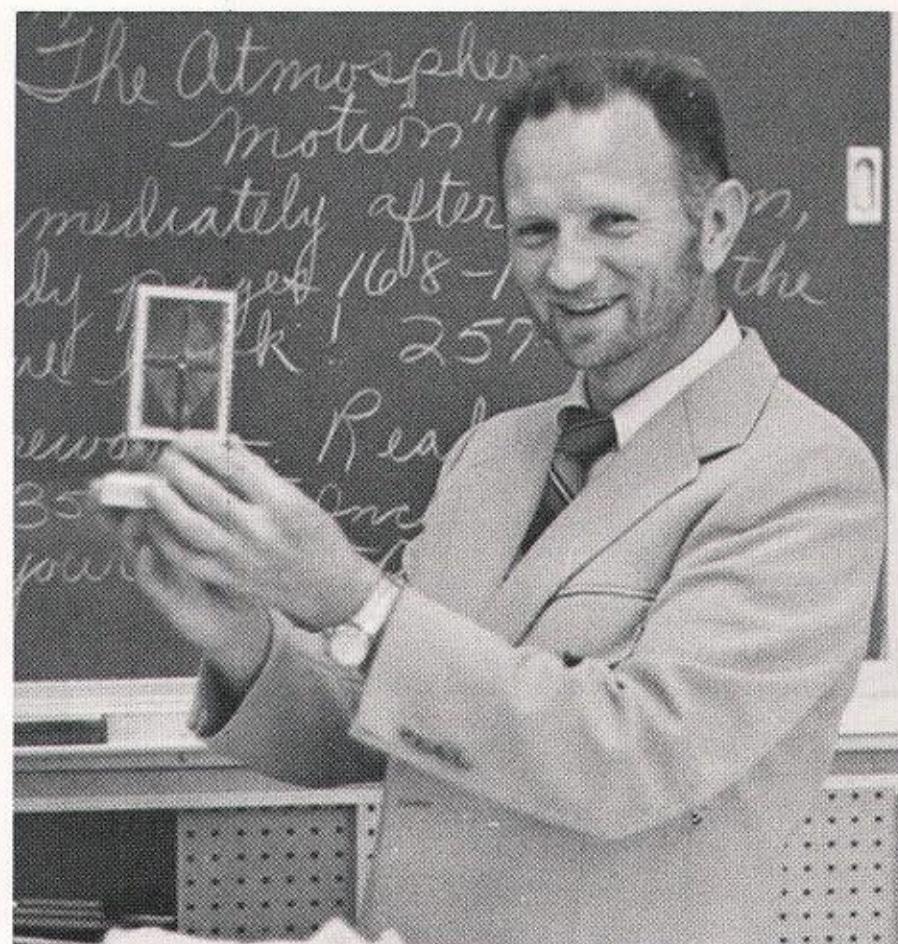

This year the science department has remained very stable, except for a few faculty changes. Mr. Lausch taught physics this year, whereas Mrs. Pierce, who teaches chemistry, taught the physics course last year.

Department head Mr. Schoenberger said that during the summer of 1977 the science department will form a new curriculum. The biggest hopes for the department next year are a new physics course and a new physics lab. The prospective physics course for next year is not actually for the college-bound student, but for the average student who is not sure of what to do after graduation.

Otherwise, the rest of the science department is virtually the same. Earth science is required for freshmen, and biology is required for the sophomores. For juniors and seniors, however, the science courses are electives. Chemistry, for eleventh graders, takes a look at the nature of materials. In the four sections that Mrs. Pierce teaches of chemistry, there are about 100 juniors and a few seniors. In her two sections of organic chemistry, there are 20 seniors. In the physics course, which examines the physical nature of the universe, Mr. Lausch has 2 sections, and approximately 30 seniors altogether. Other science courses taught here at Warwick are environmental concerns and advanced biology.

EQA TEST SHOWS WARWICK AT 90th PERCENTILE IN MATH

The Top Ten. Everybody's interested in it. But at Warwick High School, the math department is actually experiencing it. The results of a state test showed that the high school percentile score for basic math skills was 90, which means that students scored higher on the test than 90 per cent of other students did in Pennsylvania and that Warwick is in the top ten per cent of all schools who were tested throughout the state of Pennsylvania. The basic skills were only part of the Educational Quality Assessment (EQA), a test of students' performance on the state's ten goals of quality education. A projected range for each goal is set for each school. If a score falls within this range, a school is doing as expected. Another way to look at test results is by using percentile ranks. By comparing the score to scores of other schools, the percentile is determined. Superintendent H. Dale Winger said the teachers and administrators were quite pleased with the results of the test, and especially with the results of the basic skills. Dr. Winger attributes the 90th percentile to a very strong math program.

The new addition to the math department is Mrs. Pretz, replacing Mrs. Sandhaus and Mrs. Hazatones, who successively came down with cases of pregnancy last year. Mrs. Pretz hopes not to acquire this disease for awhile.

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT HELD AT SCHOOL

This year the foreign language department planned many after-school activities. The French I classes sold their famous carnations just before homecoming this year. The money was then used on a field trip. The German and Spanish classes held an International Night for the public in the fall. Students made various dishes from foreign countries along with crafts from those countries. Music and dances were also presented.

This year, just as last year, the fate of advanced foreign languages is in question. The Spanish department did not offer an advanced course because of a lack of students. The Latin classes were in the same situation, even though more students showed an interest in an advanced class.

For the past few years the job outlook for students with business skills has looked dim. Now, however, the outlook is much brighter; therefore the enrollment in business subjects has increased. To help train the students in business skills, the department has about $29,000 worth of equipment. The manual typewriters used in Personal Typing and Typing I cost $211.00 each. The equipment used in the office practice courses is valued at $8,200. As can be seen, the cost to train just one student is extremely expensive.

The department itself has changed this year. No longer is Mr. Theros with the teaching staff. Both Mrs. Klemp and Mrs. Salmon have taken mid-year maternity leaves. With two new teachers, the business staff is complete.

HOME EC AIDS IN COSTUME-MAKING FOR MUSICAL

The Home Economics department remained essentially the same during the 1976-1977 school year. The most popular class this year was creative cookery, a co-ed course offered to eleventh and twelfth graders. Mrs. Bissell, back from her sabbatical, was in charge of this year's costumes for the spring musical, The King and I. Her students in the creative stitchery classes helped to make the costumes for 67 cast members.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS ADDS NEW TEACHERS

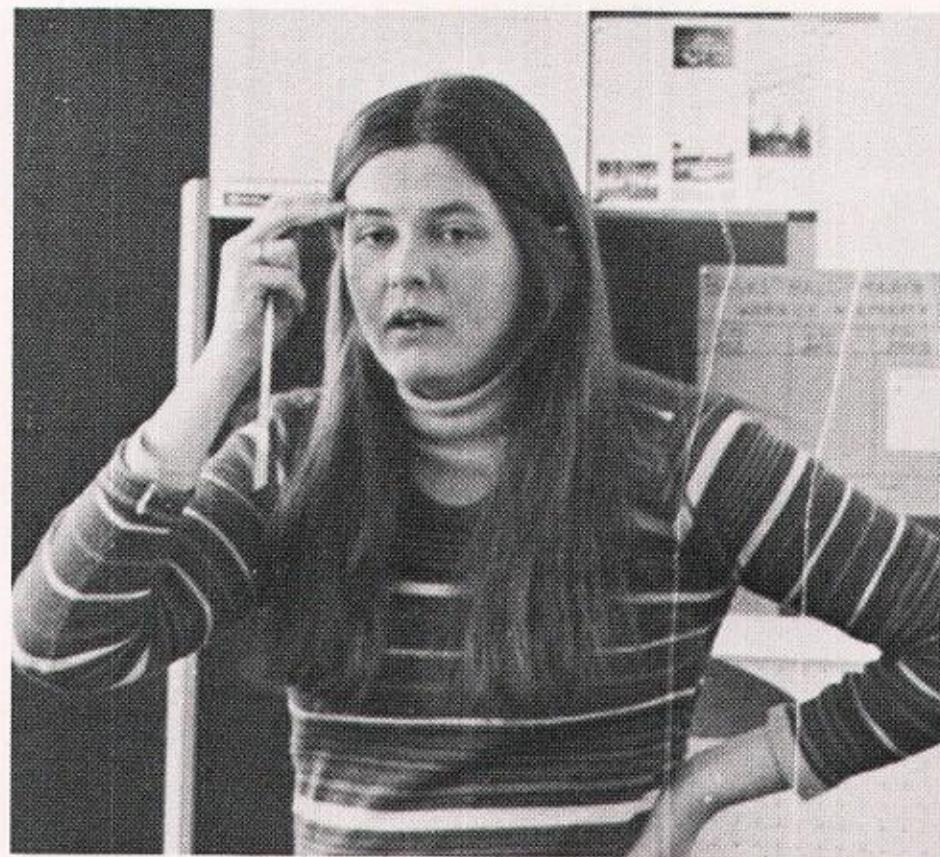

With the mention of industrial arts, the image of a class full of over-alled boys with hammers in hand comes to mind. At Warwick, however, industrial arts is different from that image. The first year is basically an introduction to such areas as woodwork, leatherwork, graphic arts, mechanical drawing, and metal work. Industrial arts II is divided into four nine week sections with choices ranging from electronics to leatherwork. During the third year of industrial arts, students specialize in one area for a whole semester and work on individual projects. This year, Mr. Keener, Mr. Trocheck, and Mr. Scaggs teach all sections of industrial arts.

MUSIC DEPT. OFFERS EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

Formulating the music department at Warwick High School are Mr. Dale Weller, who instructs the band, Mrs. June Lantz, who teaches chorus and glee club, and Mrs. Mary Holmes, who conducts the orchestra. Mrs. Holmes is the new teacher at Warwick, replacing Mr. Ralph Lehman, who now teaches at the middle school.

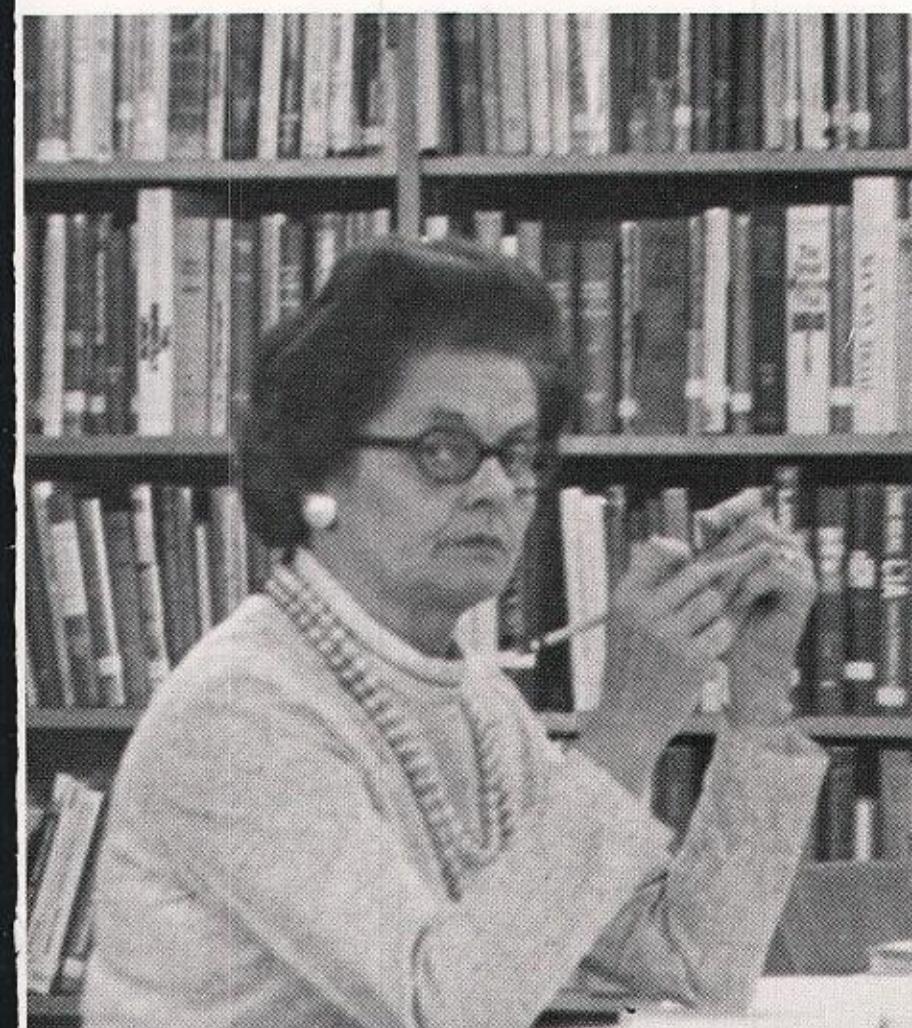

One very interesting fact about the music program at the high school is that it is all club-type with big classes, band, orchestra, and glee club. However, these are extracurricular activities. Many students would probably enjoy taking other formal music courses besides those that are offered at Warwick.

LIBRARY STRESSES SILENCE; ART STRESSES CREATIVITY

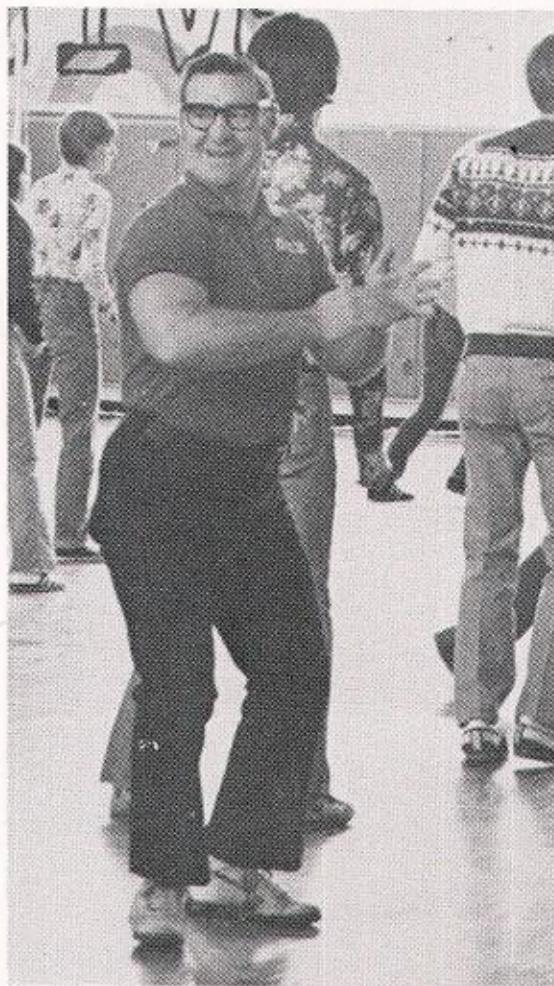

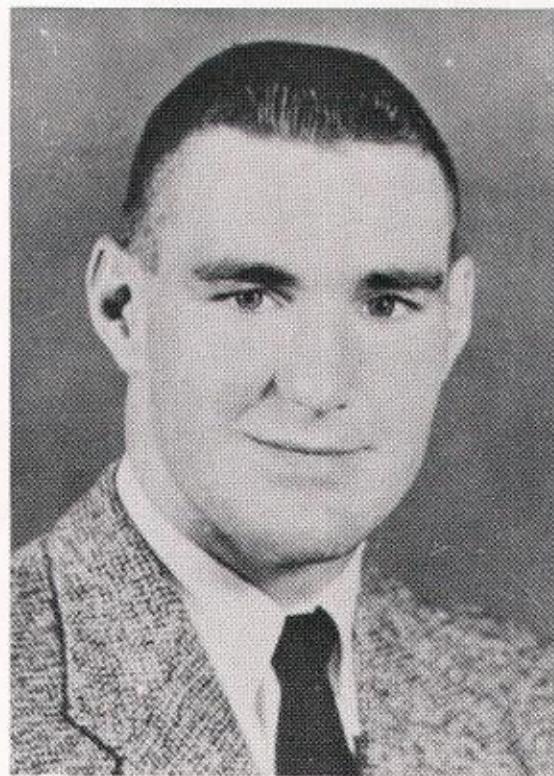

In the never-ending process of receiving new materials, the library added 490 new books last year, so that old knowledge was constantly being updated. The two areas that received the largest number of books were science and technology. Other areas, such as philosophy, social sciences, and the arts, also received a sizeable number of new books. In one month, over 155 books were processed by the library, whose faithful staff consists of Mrs. Meals, Mrs. Rosenquist, and various library aides. This year Mrs. Meals was especially busy because Mrs. Rosenquist worked part-time in the middle school library.

The art department, under the supervision of Mrs. Faith Lange and Miss Elspeth Brantley, provides students with the chance to use their creative minds and talents. The first-year art student is offered a basic introductory course in art. In this course, students experience different types of art, such as painting, drawing, lettering, weaving, and ceramics. For upper-classmen, the art course offers a more detailed study. Students work in areas like pottery, pastels, pen and ink, and textiles. There is also additional emphasis on drawing and perspective. For those who plan on art as a vocation, individual instruction is given. Often, creative work of art students is displayed in the showcases of the school.

This year, students at Warwick engaged in co-ed gym classes. The girls were given the opportunity to display their talents against their male competitors in flag football, archery, volleyball, field hockey, tennis, and basketball. Also, students were given the chance every five weeks to choose the area of instruction that best suited them. New choices for this past year were orienteering (cross country running through the Lititz area), bowling, and handball. The main objective of the physical education department was to expose all of the students in the school to the comradship that exists between team members, but also to give them skills that they can use later in life for their individual recreation.

GUEST SPEAKERS AID IN TEACHING HEALTH

During a student's senior year, part of his required curriculum includes health class, which meets three times a week. Here, the senior student learns that proper nutrition plays a major role in being physically fit. Coaches Snyder and Slagle spend several weeks teaching students the harmful effects resulting from alcohol and drug abuse. The classes also learn the harmful effects to the human body that are caused by smoking; a smoking machine demonstrates the damage done to the lungs. Movies, skits, filmstrips, and guest speakers aid the teachers in educating the students.

"CRASH COURSE" IN DRIVER EDUCATION

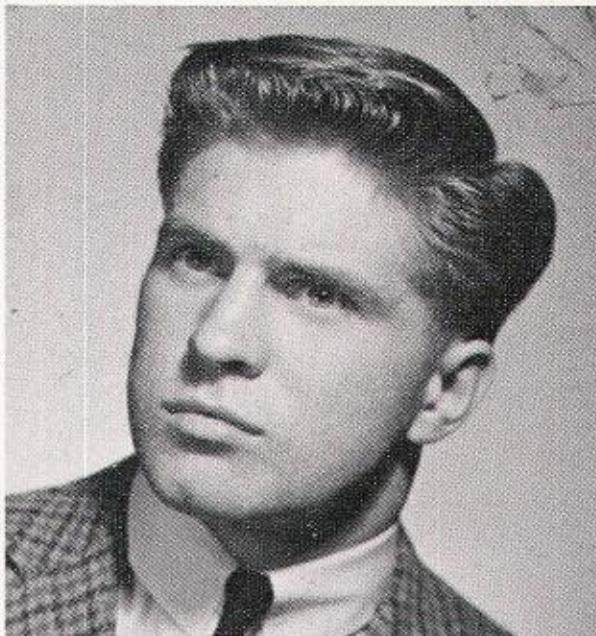

Driver education is a vital part of a junior's hectic curriculum. Despite the archaic books, gory movies, and short classroom sessions, the students are able to learn wealths of information about today's highways. Mr. McDonald and Mr. Stutzman inform the students of the changes in the Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle Code, which was effective on July first. In addition to the movies, text books, and filmstrips, officers of the Pennsylvania

State Police visit the various classes and lecture about automobile safety.

Behind the Wheel courses offer the students opportunities to actually drive and learn the rules of the road first hand. The winding and sometimes treacherous county roads often prove to be hair-raising for the students and especially Mr. McDonald and Mr. Stutzman; however, there have never been any serious mishaps with the students.

"DOC" PREPARES STUDENTS FOR FUTURE

Led by Mr. Brauner and Mrs. Wynkoop, the Work Experience program assists students in preparing themselves for their future occupations. Several students enrolled in the program maintain jobs within the community during the second half of the day. The first half of the day is devoted to several classroom courses which aid the students with their jobs.

A day at school can easily become hectic and sometimes tiring for a teacher, but if that teacher is also president of the Warwick Education Association, athletic trainer, and a baseball umpire, his schedule is simply chaotic. "Doc" a nickname inherited during the football season for his aid to the injured players, always remains cheerful, pleasant, and most of all interested in the students whom he teaches.

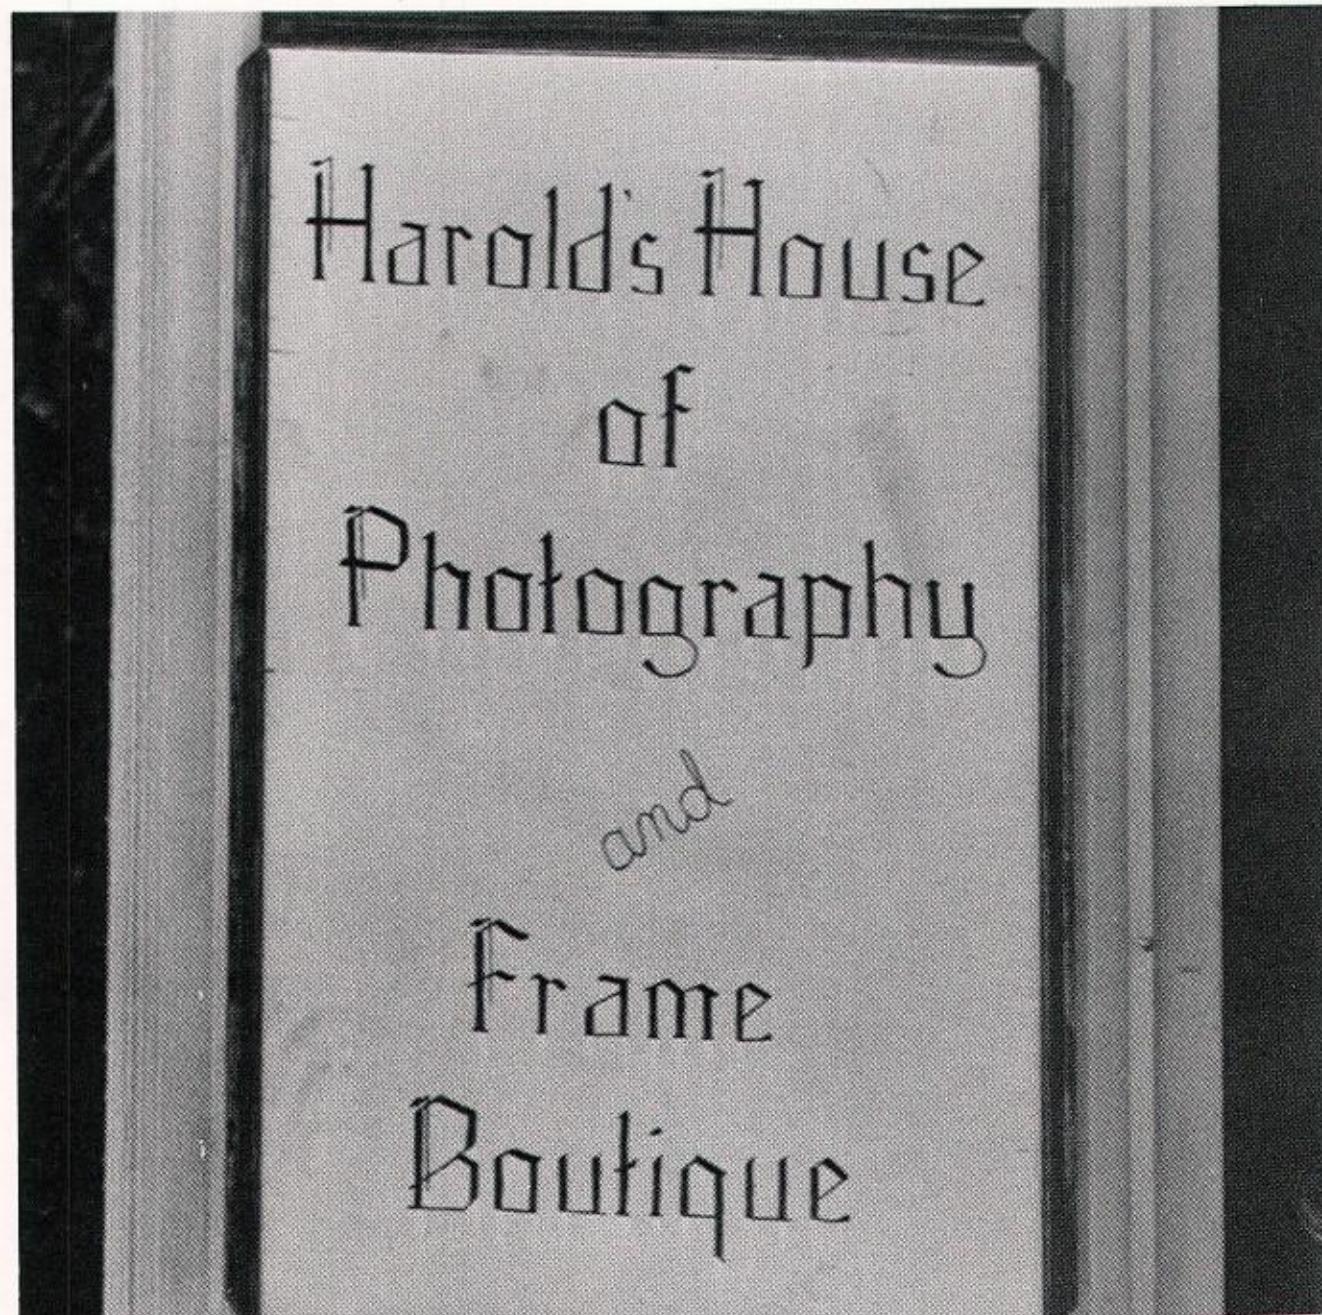

TOP. Mr. Brauner: "DOC" strikes again. CENTER LEFT. Mrs. Wynkoop: Earlier years. CENTER RIGHT. Kris Miller, Carol Richwine: Enjoying a game during a break in class.

GOODBYE TEACHER!

As a high school graduate you now have the basic tools to become anything you want to be. If you can read, write, talk and use numbers, nothing can keep you from learning more—about anything.

You can go to college and become a PhD or, in this country, you can stay home and obtain all the books necessary to become a nuclear physicist or a mechanic or anything.

As a company that sells farm equipment around the world, we realize the importance of people working in jobs they enjoy and in which they have developed knowledge and skill. We encourage you to use your high school education to help you become what you really want to be.

A Time For Reflection

As a student's thoughts turn toward graduation and the many important decisions that must be made at that time, a feeling of apprehension is often present.

Yet whether you decide to further your education or pursue a career immediately, one thought should remain foremost in your mind. Success is linked to hard work and achievement, not luck or a rub of a magic lamp. Opportunities are yours, not just for the asking, but by proving yourself worthy.
